1.7.GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Rights and Responsibilities: Every person has basic rights and responsibilities that flow from our human dignity and that belong to us as humans, regardless of any social or political structures. The rights are numerous and include those things that make life truly human. Corresponding to our rights are duties and responsibilities to respect the rights of others and to work for the common good of all.

Social Nature of Humanity: All of us are social by nature and are called to live in community with others. Our full human potential is not realized in solitude, but in community with others. How we organize our families, societies and communities directly affects our human dignity and our ability to achieve our full human potential.

The Common Good: In order for all of us to have an opportunity to grow and develop fully, a certain social fabric must exist within society. This is the common good. Numerous social conditions - economic, political, material and cultural – affect our ability to realize our human dignity and reach our full potential.

Subsidiarity: A higher level of government -- or organization -- should not perform any function or duty that can be handled more effectively at a lower level by people who are closer to the problem and have a better understanding of the issue.

Solidarity: We are all part of one human family -- whatever our national, racial, religious, economic or ideological differences – and in an increasingly interconnected world, loving our neighbor has global dimensions.

Option for the Poor: In every economic, political and social decision, a weighted concern must be given to the needs of the poorest and most vulnerable. When we do this, we strengthen the entire community, because the powerlessness of any member wounds the rest of society.

Stewardship: There is an inherent integrity to all of creation and it requires careful stewardship of all our resources, ensuring that we use and distribute them justly and equitably --- as well as planning for future generations.

1.7.1.MANAGEMENT PHILOSOPHY

FAROF's management believes that each member of staff, regardless of the specific job title or description, has a valuable and important role to play. Once employees understand the requirements of their job, they are expected to perform to standard, normally without a great deal of senior management intervention or supervision.

Management's role is to provide the necessary human, material, financial, and technical resources as well as to foster a work environment that allows staff to perform at the peak of their potential.

Management is committed to maintaining timely, open and constructive communication with all staff and expects the same commitment from staff. While the majority of general and Issue-specific communications will take place on an ad hoc basis, regular meetings shall be held to provide additional forums for staff and management to share ideas, concerns and news. These included, but are not limited to, all staff meetings in each office, departmental planning and review meetings and senior management meetings.

Basic policies and rules are outlined in this handbook, which are to serve as a guide for staff. Management shall endeavor to keep these guidelines up to date and to ensure that they are a useful framework for internal decision-making and policy application. Inevitably, circumstances will arise which are unforeseen by the policies contained in the handbook. Management will always consider each such situation and take decisions based on the needs of the organization and the staff concerned.

1.8. REVIEW AND APPROVAL OF THE EMPLOYEE'S MANUAL

The steps for review and approval of the employee's Manual are:

2. RECRUITMENT & HIRING

Purpose: The purpose of this policy is to outline the basic steps in recruiting employees, in order to ensure that candidates for employment are selected in as objective and justifiable manner as possible

Description: FAROF seeks qualified, motivated and dedicated employees for all positions regardless of religion, sex, race, color, creed, ethnicity or origin. As the Organization values diversity, all offices should work towards establishing a diverse workforce.

2.1.VACANCY/CREATION OF POST

- a) The first step of the recruitment process is the preparation of a job description and the required skills for successful fulfilling of the activities by the head of the unit with the vacancy. A Personnel Requisition Form must be prepared by the Supervisor and submitted together with a Job Description for the CEO's approval.
- b) FAROF will provide to employees the opportunity to indicate their interest in open positions and advance within the organization according to their skills and experience. In general, notices of all regular, full-time job openings are posted, although FAROF reserves its discretionary right to not post a particular opening. Job vacancies will be posted on the employee bulletin board and sent via email to all staff. Normally these positions should remain open for 7 working days. Each job vacancy will include the dates of the posting period, job title, department, location, grade level, job summary, essential duties and required skills and abilities.
- c) To apply for a position, the interested staff person should submit an application in writing expressing interest in the position and also listing job related skills and accomplishments. The letter should also describe how their current experience with FAROF qualifies them for the position. Applicants are encouraged to speak with their supervisors about their application. Supervisors are encouraged to support employees' efforts to gain experience and advance within the organization. An applicant's supervisor may be contacted to verify performance, skills, and attendance. Any staffing limitations or other circumstances that might affect a prospective transfer may also be discussed.
- e) If an internal candidate is found fit for the job, s/he will be offered the position and the recruitment process will be considered concluded. If after seven working days there are no suitable internal applicants, the position will then be placed in the local newspapers seeking external candidates. Grant Information/logo relating to the advertisement must also be included.

2.2.SELECTION PROCESS

In line with FAROF's equal employment opportunity policy, there will be no discrimination against any candidate. External candidates will be considered only if the internal recruitment process is fruitless.

a) Short-listing of applicants: This applies to both internal and external recruitments. A panel of no less than two staff will carry out the initial screening of all the applications and shortlist those who fulfill the required conditions. Ideally the selection panel should be the position's supervisor and the HR Officer. Once the closing date for applications has been reached, the panel members will read the applications and shortlist candidates - no more than 2 for internal recruitment and no more than 5 for external. Tests and/or interviews will then be arranged for all candidates.

b) Tests and/or Interview

- The applicants selected at the end of the selection process will be invited for tests and/or interviews. Appropriate testing will be done, which are relevant to the skills required for the post and can include: technical test, computer skills test, written English test, etc.
- In case of an internal applicant, those basic tests can be skipped if this knowledge is already known by FAROF.

- At the interview, the candidates should all be asked the same predetermined questions and their responses noted. (Sample questions are provided on the HR CD-ROM). Ideally interviews should happen closely together so that the interview panel can compare candidates.
- The interview panel should be not less than 3 in number and include the position supervisor. The panel will briefly document how the selected candidate was chosen and make recommendations to the CEO or delegate who will make the final recruitment decision.

(c) Interview Techniques

Having prepared a justification for the role along with a job description and person specification, it is imperative that candidates are interviewed in a timely, professional and consistent manner. Managers and supervisors involved in the recruitment process will be trained to ensure that they and the candidates gain the maximum from the interview(s) and can form a considered judgement on how to proceed

2.2.1. REFERENCE CHECKS

All employment references (a minimum of three must be provided) will be checked and documented by the Human Resources Officer. This is to ensure that individuals who join FAROF are well qualified and have a strong potential to be productive and successful. A letter of offer will not be issued until satisfactory reference checks have been received.

One reference check must be of the former employer and the other the current employer preferably (not applicable to freshers and candidates without a job). If the candidate is a fresher then reference check other than a relative will be considered.

For internal candidates, a reference should be provided by the current supervisor.

2.2.2. ACCURACY OF INFORMATION

FAROF relies upon the accuracy of information contained in the employment applications, as well as the accuracy of other data presented throughout the hiring process and employment.

Any misrepresentations, falsifications, or material omissions in any of this information or data may result in the exclusion of the individual from further consideration for employment or, if the person has been hired, termination of employment.

2.2.3. REIMBURSEMENT OF COSTS

Candidates attending interviews from outside of Interview state are entitled to reimbursement of travel/expenses as per the following guidelines:

- They can produce a written invitation by FAROF to attend the interview
- They can produce tickets/receipts/vouchers as evidence of travel expenses incurred. Memos or statements will not be accepted for the reimbursement of travel expenses
- FAROF will reimburse the least cost from/to the candidate's location

The HR Officer will clearly state the above guidelines in the invitation letters sent out to the candidates. Reimbursement will be double the amount of the receipts on the assumption that the same expenses will be incurred on the return trip. In no case will FAROF reimburse more than what the candidate had expensed to join the FAROF office. This is subject to the approval from FAROF Management Board.

2.2.4. OFFER OF APPOINTMENT/CONTRACT

After successful reference check, an offer will be made to the candidate based on the salary band, relevant work experience of the candidate, salary history, and budget availability.

Letters of appointment will be signed by the CEO or delegate and state employment terms and conditions to be signed by both parties (CEO and employee).

The employer will keep a copy of the signed contract and terms and conditions in the employee's personnel file and the employee will be given a copy for his/her records.

The methodology would be that of spending formal time with selected employees to know them and understand their roles. The newly inducted employee should also use this time to understand his/her own role, as expected by peers. The first few days of a new job are extremely important to a new recruit. New employees should not hesitate to ask questions as supervisors are anxious to help new employees in any way possible.

2.5. JOB DESCRIPTION

Purpose: All staff should have a detailed job description which should include brief descriptions of the role's primary function, job responsibility and key working relationships.

Description: A job description describes the major areas of an employee's job or position. A good job description begins with a careful analysis of the important facts about the job – such as the tasks involved, the methods used to complete the tasks, the purpose and responsibilities of the job, the relationship of the job to other jobs, and the qualifications needed for the job. Realistically, jobs are always changing – due to personal growth, organizational development and/or the evolution or introduction of new technologies, processes and procedures.

2.5.1. PURPOSE OF JOB DESCRIPTION

Either the employee or FAROF may end the employment relationship at will, with a period of one week's notice or payment of one-week salary in lieu of notice, at any time during the probation period, with or without cause.

2.6.1. DURATION OF PROBATION PERIOD OF A NEW HIRE

All new and rehired employees will work on a probationary basis for six (6) months following their date of hire. Any significant absence will automatically extend an introductory period by one month. If FAROF determines that the designated probation period does not allow sufficient time to thoroughly evaluate the employee's performance, the probation period may be extended for a period not exceeding six weeks. It is the responsibility of a supervisor to document any performance gaps in support of a request for the extension of the probation period.

If however, after this period the employee's performance is still not considered satisfactory, then their employment will be terminated by giving one month notice by the end of the fifth month or one month's pay in lieu of notice.

2.6.2. CONFIRMATION OF EMPLOYMENT STATUS

A review shall be carried out at least two weeks prior to the end of probation period by the supervisor. In an infectious disease emergency, working remotely and/or practising social distancing should occur. Social distancing involves minimizing contact with others and avoiding crowded places and large gatherings of people, whether in internal or external spaces. It is recommended that a distance of at least one meter should be maintained between persons wherever practical; however larger distances are more effective. Visiting or other contact with unwell people should be avoided wherever practicable.

22. PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT

Purpose: As an organization created to serve others, FAROF requires a performance management system that focuses on performance to achieve its mission, on fairness to respect the dignity of all employees, on employee development to build skills and behaviors, on empowerment to create strong employee commitment, and on behaviors consistent with organization values. Overall, the performance management system seeks to respect the dignity of each individual while focusing employee talents, skills, and behaviors on achieving results.

Description: The FAROF Performance Management System has five parts: performance plan, employee development plan, coaching, appraisal, and rewards/recognition. The FAROF Performance Management System emphasizes achieving results, developing staff, supporting achievement of results, acting in accordance with FAROF values-based behaviors, evaluating performance carefully, and rewarding performance.

22.1. PERFORMANCE PLANNING

Performance Planning is a joint effort between an employee and their supervisor to;
Determine annual individual results-based objectives based on the organization's program, or departmental needs;

- Discuss the knowledge, skills and behaviors required to excel in the job; and
- Review behaviors that demonstrate FAROF's values.

Each employee and their supervisor must identify up to five results-based performance objectives on the FAROF Planning and Development Form. Those results-based objectives must be aligned with the departmental and the organization program needs.

22.2. DEVELOPMENT PLANS

The development of FAROF staff is an organization value, rooted in the organization's vision and mission. Development plans are mainly done as part of the performance planning process. It is an ongoing process of identifying gaps in performance and building new skills throughout the year. Employees and their supervisors complete the Development section of the FAROF Planning and Development Form at the beginning of the assessment year. This form lists career interests, the training needs for the short and long term, as well as the learning/development plans for the year.

22.2.1. COACHING SESSIONS

Coaching sessions are opportunities to monitor employee development plans and performance plans. They are also opportunities to affirm good performance and to identify potential performance problems. Moreover, coaching sessions can examine how learning is being applied to work, and if a mentoring relationship would be helpful.

22.2.2. PERFORMANCE ASSESSMENT

For all regular employees, their performance is evaluated according to an ongoing 12-month cycle, which starts at the end of each fiscal year. All employees will have a review at this date, regardless of start date to get all employees within this cycle.

Performance assessment does the following:

- Provides direct feedback on performance so that the employee can maximize strengths and address performance gaps.
- Allows the supervisor and staff to exchange perspectives on the role and performance.
- Provides input to the merit increase.

Formal performance assessments are conducted at the end of probation period for new employees, the first 6 months for all and September 30, for all other staff. The process includes a self-assessment by the employee, an assessment by the supervisor and a review by the second level supervisor. Supervisors and employees are strongly encouraged to discuss job performance and goals on an informal, day-to-day basis. After the probationary period, a new employee and his/her supervisor must discuss the job responsibilities, standards and performance requirements of the position (although it is encouraged that quarterly informal discussions take place to ensure the probationer is on the right track). These discussions give new employees the opportunity to discuss job tasks, and to identify and correct weaknesses, encourage and recognize strengths and discuss positive purposeful approaches for meeting set goals.

22.3. APPLICABILITY

Every FAROF employee must have a performance plan and an employee development plan by the end of the first month of joining FAROF. Any current FAROF employee who takes a new job with a new supervisor should also have a new employee development plan and performance plan one month after taking the new job. Every FAROF employee who reports to a supervisor for at least three months of the fiscal year should have a performance appraisal done. For example, if an employee begins employment with FAROF on 1 July, that employee would have a performance appraisal that would examine performance during July, August and September. If a supervisor takes a new position and has FAROF HR Policy new employees to supervise, the supervisor must, before taking the new job, complete a performance appraisal for every employee that s/he supervised for at least three months sometime between 1 January and 31 December. This means that an employee may receive more than one appraisal during the year if the employee had more than one supervisor during the year.

22.4. RESPONSIBILITY OF EMPLOYEE

Most parts of the performance management system require the employee to initiate action. For example, the employee prepares the first draft of the performance plan and employee development plan. The employee is responsible for scheduling the coaching session. Also, for the performance appraisal, the employee must do a written self-appraisal on the FAROF Performance Plan/Assessment form.

22.5. MERIT INCREASES

The overall rating on the performance assessment informs later decisions about merit increases. The overall organization financial situation determines if merit increases are given and what the range of those increases, if given, might be. Each year, Human Resources will issue a procedures memo about merit increases once the Executive decisions about availability of funding for merit increases is made.

22.6. TIME FRAME

The FAROF Performance Management System operates on the FAROF fiscal year, 1 January to 31 December. During that year, there are the following standard deadlines:

31 January - Deadline for completion of performance plans and employee development plans

31 May - Deadline for completion of first coaching session

30 September - Deadline for completion of second coaching session

15 December - Deadline for completion of performance appraisal

Jan-March - Merit increases given (dates for staff increases may vary) pending organization financial situation.

23. TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT

Purpose: FAROF recognizes a responsibility to enhance the employee's opportunity to develop skills and abilities for full performance within the position and for career advancement within the organization. Both the head of department and the Human Resources Office have a responsibility to assist in the professional development of employees.

2. HRT&D continuously evaluates recommendations and overall University needs and establishes training programs as possible to meet those needs.
3. Scheduled training programs for employees are announced through bulletins distributed to all department heads, designated web sites and University publications.

5. HRT&D is responsible for maintaining a record of employees who complete their training courses within the system of record. Upon completion of HRT&D sponsored certificate training, HRT&D is responsible for forwarding the record of completion to the Human Resources Office of Employee Records.
6. If a department's training needs cannot be met by HRT&D, a referral of the request may be made to appropriate resources and advice given to the department head concerning alternatives.
7. Bond

As part of the staff and FAROF_development activities, FAROF may at times decide to send a designated staff person for trainings and/or further studies both abroad as well as at local level. NGO will bear the full/partial costs of the trainings/studies for this. However, the designated staff sponsored for the trainings/studies is required to sign a bond with FAROF that requires him/her to complete the full tenure of working with the organization.

24. PROMOTION, TRANSFER OR DEMOTION

Purpose: The purpose of this policy is to achieve optimum utilization of a staff member's skills and talents by agreement to employ the person in a more advantageous work situation through promotion, transfer, or demotion, and to enhance the career advancement of staff members.

Description: FAROF encourages the policy of open promotion, transfer, reclassification and demotion of individuals to staff positions on the basis of qualifications and suitability without regard to race, tribe, sex, age, colour, religion, national origin, handicap, or disability status. It is the policy of FAROF to fill staff positions with the best qualified and best suited candidates either by promoting, transferring or demoting an employee or by hiring from outside FAROF.

Definition:

- b. Transfer: The permanent lateral movement of a staff member from one position to another position in the same or another department assigned to the same salary grade.
- c. Demotion: The permanent movement of a staff member from one position in one job grade to a position in another job grade of decreased responsibility or complexity of duties and in a lower salary range.
- d. Reclassification: The permanent movement of a position's title and/or salary grade assignment. Reclassification may result in a promotion, transfer, or demotion of an employee.

24.1. PROMOTIONS AND TRANSFERS

A Head of Department may recommend the promotion or transfer of a qualified staff member in his/her department to a vacant position within his/her department, without posting of the vacancy on the notice board; however, all staff members of the department must be made aware of the vacant position and be given consideration. The CEO will approve all promotions or transfers.

24.1.1. DEMOTIONS

A Head of Department may also recommend the demotion of a recently promoted or transferred staff who does not succeed in the new position by reassigning him/her to another position, or by reclassifying the staff member's grade, to a level at which he/she will be able to meet performance requirements. A demotion may also be used to apply a disciplinary action for misconduct, or for other reasons. A staff member may request a demotion to start training in another occupation, to continue employment when a layoff is imminent, or for other reasons. The CEO or delegate will approve all demotions.

24.1.2. PROMOTION AND TRANSFER OPPORTUNITIES

The purpose of the Promotion and Transfer Opportunities policy is to enhance the career advancement opportunities of staff members by providing each staff member the opportunity to apply and receive consideration for a promotion or transfer.

- a. A notice of all job vacancies will be posted on the office notice boards or email for a period of one week by the HR Officer. A staff member who wishes to apply for one of these vacant positions must do so through the HR Department.

- b. Staff members who meet the following requirements may make application and be considered for a promotion or transfer to a vacant position through a transparent selection process:
- (i) Meets the minimum qualifications for the job or has clearly demonstrated the ability to perform the job.
 - (ii) Has been employed in his/her current position for a minimum period of twelve (12) consecutive months (the CEO may approve exceptions to this provision, particularly if a staff member is being forced to seek another job due to circumstances beyond his/her control or if an internal departmental promotion or transfer is involved). In the event the CEO approves a promotion or transfer prior to completion of the 3 months probationary period and the staff member is hired into a new position, a new 3 months probationary period is established.
 - (iii) Has a satisfactory record of performance in his/her current position.
- c. A staff member's expressed interest in a position will not jeopardize his/her current position or future opportunities.
- d. A staff member who makes application for a promotion or transfer may be required to take job-specific testing.
- e. A staff member is not required to notify his/her present supervisor when applying for a vacant position or transfer; however, the staff member must have the approval of his/her present supervisor if he/she schedules appointments, interviews, etc. during regular work hours. Such scheduling should be at a time when it will cause the least disruption of work and may be limited to a reasonable number of interviews by his/her supervisor. Time that is approved by the supervisor for interviews is not docked or otherwise charged against accrued leave.
- f. A supervisor may not limit the number of interviews scheduled outside of the regular work schedule of the staff member.
- g. The effective date of a promotion or transfer will be determined jointly by the two departments involved. Normal notice is two weeks.

24.1.3. PAY ADJUSTMENT UPON PROMOTION, TRANSFER OR DEMOTION

a. Promotion

When a staff member is promoted to a position of increased responsibility or complexity of duties requiring a change of title and having a higher salary band, he/she will receive a salary adjustment either to the entry level of the salary band of the new position or to a salary rate decided by the Executive Management Team based on the staff current salary and position whichever is the higher amount. However, a staff member's salary rate may not exceed the maximum salary rate for the new grade.

b. Transfer

In order to discourage indiscriminate transfers, job hopping, and unfair competition between departments, a staff member who transfers laterally to another position having the same or a different title, and the same salary range, is not eligible for a base salary increase.

c. Demotion

Upon demotion or downward reclassification of a staff member's current position, a staff member's salary may remain unchanged, if it is within the salary range of the new position or may be adjusted to an appropriate level within the new salary range as agreed upon by the CEO. The new pay rate shall be determined by consideration of the circumstances related to the demotion, the employee's employment record and job performance.

24.2. PROMOTION, TRANSFER OR DEMOTION AUTHORIZATION

The HR Officer is responsible for ensuring that the Promotion, Transfer or Demotion Policy is uniformly and equitably administered.

All promotions, transfers, or demotions must have the prior approval of the CEO prior to any commitment being made and prior to the effective date of the proposed change of status. This approval is required for review of the nomination, availability of funds, and compliance with FAROF policies.

24.2.1. TEMPORARY ASSIGNMENTS

Assuming other duties temporarily for a brief period of time does not constitute a promotion and generally would not entitle the employee to additional compensation.

25. STAFF SPECIAL RECOGNITION PROGRAM

Purpose: To recognize and reward extraordinary performance of individuals and teams, the FAROF staff Special Recognition Award Program provides for the timely recognition of significant employee contributions.

Description: Recognition awards provide a unique opportunity for immediate recognition, rather than the more customary annual recognition of performance and service and more regular affirmation by supervisor of good performance by staff in their normal performance of duty.

In the FAROF staff Recognition Program, special recognition may be given to individuals or teams for a significant achievement and are given soon after the time that the achievement occurs. The Recognition Program is not intended to replace or restrict other recognition that are done by the organization such as the CEO's Award or rewards based on Annual Appraisals or recognition given by the supervisors on a regular basis for good performance of their duties.

25.3. IMPROPER, UNACCEPTABLE USE OF AWARD

The recognition program is for specific examples of contributions beyond what is their normal job description and is NOT for general reasons such as the person is hardworking, punctual, cordial, team player, practices FAROF value-based behaviors etc. Examples of improper, unacceptable use of this staff recognition program include but are not limited to:

- a) Holding a regular quarterly all staff luncheon for all staff because "everyone in the department or organization works hard." Recognition program must reward a specific, exceptional achievement by an individual or team or department soon after that exceptional action occurs. Nominations without such clarity and specificity will not be considered.
- b) Giving an Award to someone not for any special achievement but because FAROF has never given the person any special award.

25.4.1. STAFF RECOGNITION COMMITTEE

A five-member Staff Recognition Committee will be set up to review the nominations and make one of the following determinations:

- a) The nomination does not merit recognition and if so why
- b) The nomination does merit recognition and is approved for a recognition by the organization and if so why and identifies what should be the type of reward.

The HR Officer will arrange the meeting of the Staff Recognition Committee. Three members from the Committee will constitute a quorum for a valid committee meeting. Human Resources will keep record of all such nominations, recommendations and awards given.

26. SALARY AND BENEFITS ADMINISTRATION

Purpose: The overall goal of a salary and benefits administration programme is to attract, retain, and motivate employees and to help FAROF to achieve its management objectives.

Description: Because employees represent a substantial investment in FAROF and labour costs have a significant impact on the annual budget, it has become critical for FAROF to adopt an effective salary and benefits administration programme. The loss of quality personnel due to an ineffective compensation programme will have an impact far in excess of the obvious costs of replacement.

Compensation levels and benefits packages must be in accordance with what is legal and appropriate in Nigeria.

26.1. SALARY ADMINISTRATION

All salaries and employee contracts must be stated and paid in local currency (Naira). Fluctuations in the U.S. dollar exchange rate do not automatically result in a change in local salary rates.

Approved Organizational Scale: FAROF's policy is to compensate staff in accordance with the organization's Compensation Plan, which includes the salary scale. FAROF will conduct a salary survey every two years to update its Compensation plan which may result in salary reviews depending on the availability of funds.

FAROF's goal is to have a compensation plan that attracts and retains employees. As such, FAROF reserves the right to adjust salaries as necessary either because of individual circumstances or to ensure that FAROF's compensation remains competitive in the local market, within available resources. For audit purposes, human resources must maintain in its files all documentation associated with the proposed salary adjustments. Also important is consistent use of titles for staff positions.

26.1.1. HIRING SALARY

New employees normally will be considered for a hiring salary that is at least the minimum of the salary range for the position, depending on how completely their qualifications meet the requirements of the position and based on their past salary history.

26.1.2. OVERTIME

Most hire positions are considered to be salaried, rather than paid on an hourly or daily basis, and are usually not eligible for overtime pay. Therefore, from time to time, employees may be expected to work longer than the standard workweek without additional compensation. However, FAROF will overtime to junior positions only (Drivers). All overtime must be accurately recorded and is considered taxable income (see Section below on timesheets and the Monthly Time and Effort Sheet).

26.2. SALARY

1. FAROF will pay monthly gross salary net of statutory deductions such as PAYE, Pension National Housing Fun (NHF) and housing advance where applicable in arrears on 25th of the month in compliance with Nigeria labour law and respective grant administrative terms and conditions and in line with the organization's salary scale. The organization will conduct a salary survey every two years and may review salary accordingly to be comparable and competitive to the pay received by similarly situated employees in other organizations in the sector depending on the availability of funding.
2. Housing Advance: In line with the practice in Nigeria of paying rent annually upfront, FAROF will pay 20% percentage of the annual salary, in line with the organization's salary scale as housing advance lump sum to permanent staff to assist with rent payment. Staff on probation will only be entitled to housing advance upon confirmation of their employment status and this will be prorated accordingly.

26.3. FRINGE BENEFIT

This sub-section covers employee extra benefits in addition to regular pay.

Definition

Fringe Benefits (Including long term employees' benefits)

A fringe benefit is a form of pay for the performance of services. It is an incidental or additional advantage, especially a benefit provided by the organization to supplement its employees' regular pay. The fringe benefit for FAROF is calculated between 20%-25%.

The organization offers its employees the following fringe benefits:

Employer's Pension Contribution

The organization is under legal obligation to register and make contributions to the Pension Contributory Scheme. On a monthly basis, the organization will contribute to the Pension Contributory Scheme ten per cent (10%) of each employee's monthly emolument as the employer's contribution. This amount and the employee's pension contribution will be remitted to a Pension Fund Administrator (PFA) of the employee's choosing. This rate can be reviewed at Executive management's discretion. A total of 18% is saved as staff pension; kindly refer to salary deduction charges to understand what makes staffs pension 18%.

Medical Health Insurance

The organization views Health insurance as probably the most important benefit that it provides to its employees. For workers, employer-provided health coverage gives them some security about their own and their family's health in a way that is typically more affordable than individual insurance. For organization, offering health coverage is often a necessary compensation form to remain competitive in the marketplace. The organization will contract a Health Management Organization (HMO) to provide at most 10% super plan of health insurance to the staff, spouse and maximum of four children. The landscape of employer-provided health insurance is impacted by law. The organization will purchase a health insurance plan and pay for the health insurance premium for each employee. Such includes: Zenith Medicare, etc.in some case, FAROF will directly add the 10% during staff salary payment to staffs accounts, depending on Executive management's discretion

Group Life Insurance

In addition to health insurance, the organization offers its employees, life insurance benefits. The organization will contract with an insurance company to provide cover for all its staff and pay the annual premium. The organization will make provision of up to 8% of staff total basic salary annually for life insurance premium payment.

Severance

Employee reductions and terminations are an unfortunate result of economic downturns. Even in good economic times, however, the organization will carefully assess its operational structures and may sometimes decide to reduce its workforce. When the organization is forced to issue layoffs, it will provide these laid-off employee's severance pay. Severance is typically a cash payment- similar to temporarily continued wages- made to employees who lose their jobs. Severance pay eases the employee's transition to being unemployed and, in the ideal world, briefly replaces lost wages until an individual finds new employment. Laid off employees will be paid 25% of their annual basic salary as severance pay. The organization will make provision for severance pay of 0.5% of its total staff basic salary annually.

Professional Development Assistance (Professional And Career Development Benefits)

Professional Development Assistance program is a benefit that pays for the job-related education, annual practice license fees and subscriptions of employees. This program allows employees to improve their knowledge and skills in a field that they can apply to the organization's business and maintain current financial status. Thus, professional development assistance can be mutually beneficial to both organization and employees. The organization will make provision of 0.5% -15% of total basic salary annually.

Gratuity

Gratuity is a part of salary that an employee receives from the organization in gratitude for the services offered. Gratuity is a defined benefit plan and is one of the many retirement benefits offered by the organization to the employee upon leaving the organization's employment. An employee who leaves the organization's employment as a result of retirement/superannuation, for a better job elsewhere, on being retrenched or by way of voluntary retirement is entitle to gratuity payment. The organization will approach a life insurer in order to purchase a group gratuity plan and will pay annual contributions based upon the terms of the group gratuity scheme. Gratuity will be paid as follows and subject to the approval of FAROF Management:

Years	Basis of payment
Below 2 years	None
2 – 5 years	One-month basic salary for every year
6 – 10 years	Two months basic salary for every year
11 – 15 years	Three months basic salary for every
Above 15 years	Six months basic salary for every year

The organization will make provision of 0.5% of total basic salary annually.

Therefore, the organization will contribute 1% of employees' emoluments to the National Social Insurance Trust Fund every month. This covers workplace injury, death or disability during the service period of employee with FAROF

Long Service Awards

The organization will recognize and demonstrate the appreciation of loyalty and commitment of long serving employees and to define the categories of long service awards. This policy applies to all employees who have completed 5; 10; 15; 20 and 25 years continuous paid service. Details are contained in the HR Policy. Annually, the organization will make provision of 0.5% of the total basic salary.

Travel benefit-

This benefit is optional and its at 1.5% -5% of basic

Accident/injury Benefit-

This benefit is optional and fixed at 3% of basic

The National Housing Fund (NHF): FAROF statutory contribution on NHF is the optional 2.5 percent contribution of monthly income by employees earning minimum wage and above in public and private sectors shall be deducted and remitted monthly by all employers. The main objective of NHF is not just to make affordable funding available for housing, but to create an environment that makes affordable housing possible.

Leave or Vacation Allowance

The organization pays vacation/leave allowance subject to FAROF Management approval/discretion under the following:

- Applicable sick leave schemes will apply for staff absent through their own illness or to care for a dependent (this includes staff with contagious disease who are sent home so they do not present a risk to the workplace).
- Leave without pay provisions or annual leave will apply to staff absent because they are concerned about being at work or concerned about being affected by the emergency, or who refuse to come to work, or who are attending to other non-work matters.

- Staff have the option of utilising their annual leave in this situation.
- Sick leave only applies in the event of the employee's illness/injury or that of the employee's dependent, pre-approval from the management of FAROF.
- Staffs are entitled to leave/vacation allowance only if the project budget covers for it.

End of Service Benefits

End of Service Benefits in FAROF means that any employee or worker who is working gets some cash after ending their service and will be entitled for End of Service benefits. If an employee is working for the organization and when s/he resigns or gets terminated or the project on which s/he is working ends, s/he will get his full and final settlement from FAROF which is known as End of service benefits. End of Service (EOS) benefits all depends on the time period an employee works in the organization and based on that s/he will be awarded cash benefits towards ending his/her services from the organization. The employee shall be entitled to 10% of annual gross salary as EOS benefit. EOS will be paid based on the length of years of service.

Relocation allowance

Where an employee is relocated to another location of employment at the instance of the organization, the relocated employee will be entitled to

- i. 30 days hotel accommodation or N5000 per day in lieu of hotel accommodation
- b) Up to N150, 000.00 in moving expenses to move his/her belonging to the new location. A transporter's invoice must be presented, and the payment will be made directly to the transporter.

26.4. SALARY SCALE

FAROF salary policy

With the growth of FAROF, it has proved necessary to define a clear policy for the compensation of our staff. This process was undertaken in 2022, and the resulting policy was adopted by the board of Trustee and enforced from January 2023 onwards.

The objectives of this policy are the following:

- Compensate staff with equity, setting salaries based on objective criteria
- Being transparent internally, and externally (for our donors, partners, and job applicants)
- Keeping a ratio of a (approximately) 2 between minimal and maximum base salary (cf. below)
- Being consistent with existing compensation practices in similar organizations and in the sector
- For practical reasons, taking into account previously existing practices

This salary grid applies to all employees with a Nigeria-based employment contract and in compliance with local labor law (even if the employee leaves abroad). It doesn't apply to our consultants incorporated abroad since the cost of life and status differences (including which additional taxes they need to pay) are too important to fit them all in a single grid; however, we try to apply equally fair criteria when negotiating the rates of consultants. It also of course doesn't apply to consultants based in Nigeria. The grid finally doesn't apply to specific status with legally-set compensations (interns, volunteer).

26.4.1. Principles

The main criteria taken into accounts are the following:

- Seniority/Experience, first within FAROF and also in similar positions, to acknowledge both experience and age in itself
- Responsibilities in the organization, both coming from managerial and from crosscutting responsibilities.
- Since all employees are currently based in Nigeria or in countries with a similar cost of living (London-UK), and remote working is based on employees' personal wishes, no geographical correction is applied.
- In order to promote equality within the team, there is only one salary grid regardless of the area of work (technical or support, except for assistants).
- The grid doesn't allow for neither individual or team bonuses based on performances, which should be acknowledged via additional responsibilities, nor does it allow for individual negotiations. As an organisation with a mission we are aiming at providing other incentives for employees than just their pay level.
- There is no specific gratification for staff deployed in the field since given the (relatively short) length and conditions of missions, they don't create additional costs for employees (outside of fees reimbursement, covered separately as per our internal policy).

The core salary grid is based on the standard FAROF working time at 45 hours/week. The salaries of employees working a reduced schedule (whether 45 h/week or less) are therefore calculated pro rata based on the 45 h/week amount. All salaries expressed here are gross salaries; in Nigeria the net salary varies based on individual situations but the ratio is usually around 80% of the gross salary (this is before the revenue tax, deducted on top of it). Apart from the salary, all employee benefit from FAROF's Fringe Benefits of 25% covering health insurance and all other benefits.

26.4.2. Functioning

Seniority/Experience

The grid is first calculated on a linear function based on seniority and/or Experience, with FAROF's base salary starting at ₦60,000/month (i.e. a rounded up amount of Nigeria minimum wage of ₦30,000/month). The maximum anticipated base salary would be ₦15,200,000/month after 41.5 years of internal experience (time required for getting full-pension retirement currently). The grid is therefore targeting a ratio of around 2 between minimal and maximum base salary, with a faster raise rhythm at start to encourage employees to commit with our organization. The grid published here is therefore simplified after 10 years of seniority/Experience, but raises of 10% are still applied yearly; also each Grid level also depend on the employees educational qualification level (WAEC/NECO, ND, HND, BSC, MSC, etc.), although we give higher consideration/advantage to years of experience and skills in the specific thematic areas

Grid level (seniority in years)	Basic salary in ₦ (45h/w) per month	Basic salary in ₦ (45h/w) in 12months	Grid level (seniority in years)	Basic salary in ₦ (45h/w) per month	Basic salary in ₦ (45h/w) in 12months
1	60,000	720,000	8	550, 000	6,600,000
2	120,000	1,440, 000	9	650,000	7,800,000
3	180,000	2,160, 000	10	720,000	8,640,000
4	220,000	2,640, 000	15	1,080,000	12,960,000
5	2,90,000	3,480,000	20	1,440, 000	17, 280,000
6	360,000	4,320,000	25	1,800, 000	21, 000, 000
7	420, 000	5,040,000	30	2,160,000	25, 000,000

The grid level is calculated based on years of seniority/experience = 1 grid level. Seniority is accounted at 100% for experience gained at FAROF (including internships, consultancies, etc.) to reward loyalty to the organization. Seniority at similar position outside of FAROF is accounted at 75% of its value, including all staff contracts (employee, consultant, apprenticeship, but not internship or unpaid volunteering) working for a similar job description. Working in the humanitarian sector will be considered necessary to be considered similar experience only for positions where the content of the job differs greatly between humanitarian and other sectors. Assistant position's seniority is calculated reduced by 1 grid level.

26.4.3. Salaries base on Responsibilities

An additional amount is added to the base salary for employees on a monthly basis with the following responsibilities as part of their Terms of Reference:

	Role	Management supplementary Amount per Month
A	Chief Executive Officer	₦1, 850, 000
B	Member of the Top management team e.g Strategic Development Manager.	₦1,650, 000
C	Project Manager (Health, Education, Empowerment, etc.)	₦950, 000
D	Area/State project manager / Coordinator / Technical lead	₦600, 000
E	Line manager / pole facilitator / other ad hoc responsibilities	₦150, 000
F	Office Assistant	₦50, 000

These additional amounts are not cumulative for employees having several “hats” (the highest is applied).

Kindly Note: FAROF is a non-profit making organisation, however we value experience and/or skills of our employees greatly, All employee basic salaries or addition salaries due to responsibility are all subject to the availability of funds and Donor support, “either direct grant or sub-grant”.

26.4.3.1. TAX from salaries

In FAROF some staffs are paid stipends and not salaries, stipends have different ranges, however, whether stipends or salaries, All Employees are eligible to tax deduction from any sum above the minimum wage of ₦30, 000/month

26.4.4. Evolutions

Upon their arrival, each employee’s experience is evaluated based on the rules stated above, and their salary re-evaluated after contract change/extension. For permanent employees, salaries are then re-evaluated on a yearly basis following seniority rules, or on the following month for new responsibilities and availability of Funds and/or inline to budget as stated and approved by Donors.

The reference point on which all the salary levels showed in the grid are calculated is negotiated yearly by FAROF’s employee's representatives and management, taking into account the evolution of cost of living as well as the overall financial situation of the association.

26.5. EMPLOYEE PAY DURING CRISIS SITUATION

Depending on the scenario, different issues may arise as to what staff/employee can expect in relation to whether or not they are paid during a crisis event such as epidemic, natural disaster, earthquake, insecurity, or other unforeseeable event.

Firstly a situation-need-analysis will need to be conducted and/or meeting held by the executive Board members of the Foundation to determine situation and/or staffs remuneration during crisis period, while considering other factors and subject to donors approval.

A crisis situation example is used to illustrate. That FAROF will, while funding/Donor permits (Donors pre-approval), continue to pay staff/employees their normal salary during a crisis situation, provided they:

- come to their usual place of work (with suitable protection measures in place – such as personal hygiene, cleaning regimes, etc.); or
- work remotely (e.g., from home); or
- carry out pre-approved alternative duties for their employer or another agency; or
- are on sick leave; or

- are looking after sick dependents (using sick or other leave entitlements or anticipated sick leave); or
- are directed by employer to halt/suspend all activities under the donors partner Directives; or
- are instructed by the National degree/law of the Federal government of Nigeria to halt all activities/business for the safety of all.

The scenarios in the table below may also mutually come in play:

Status	Scenario description	Payments to staff	Remark
Open to Permanent staffs and contract/casual staffs	In any crisis situation that lead to temporary closure of activities	Salaried staff will continue to receive their pay (100%) during a sustained Emergency as stated above.	Subject to Donors approval
Open to Permanent staffs and contract staffs	prolonged crisis situation period more than 2months period	Salaried staff will be entitled to 80% of remuneration	Subject to Donors approval
Closed to Volunteers/interns	Any crisis situation	Volunteer/intern staffs may not be eligible to any form of salary/stipend/payment during a sustained Emergency period and are permitted to stay home and/or work from home as the case may be	Subject to Donors approval
Open to Volunteers/interns	Any crisis situation	Will be provided stipend if called to workplace as long as he/she are willing and provided with protective equipment (PPE).	Subject to Donors approval
Casual staff and contractors only	If a contractor or casual worker is sick or not able to come to work or directed not to come to work	No payment will be made.	Subject to Donors approval
Open to Volunteers/interns only	if a closure is prolonged due to any form of crisis situation	FAROF will seek to provide alternative work with continuous pay	Subject to FAROF Management approval

26.6. COST-OF-LIVING ADJUSTMENT

The organization may give its employees cost-of-living increases if these adjustments reflect updates to the Compensation Plan based on inflation rate in the country and the availability of funds. A memo explaining any such increase should be kept in the human resources files. The CEO must approve cost-FAROF HR Policy of-living increase and the cost of living increase will be between 5% - 15% of annual salary. If FAROF would like to provide a cost-of living adjustment, this is a possibility, but subject to the guidelines for cost-of-living increases.

The above applies to across-the-board increases, where all employees receive an increase according to the guidelines the organization is using. For increases given to individual employees on a case-by-case basis, see the next two sub-sections on merit and promotion increases and administrative adjustments.

26.7. MERIT AND PROMOTION INCREASES

Merit Increases: FAROF has a merit-increase program through which the performance of all employees is evaluated systematically on an annual basis. The system must provide a consistent and equitable basis for making decisions regarding increases in staff pay.

Promotion Increases: A promotion is defined as an increase in a position's responsibilities substantive enough to warrant a change in the job description and a salary increase. The position's qualifications and performance requirements should be consistent with other higher-level positions, as demonstrated in a new job description. It is recommended that employees be eligible for a promotion into a higher-level position only after they have completed a minimum of 12 months in their current job.

A supervisor seeking a promotion for a staff member should submit a request to the Human Resources Manager for the CEO's for approval. The request must include a new job description and a justification for the promotion. The employee should be informed only after approval has been given.

Any promotion increase granted should be dependent on such factors as:

- Individual's qualifications in relation to similar positions
- Position of employee's salary in new salary range
- Time since last salary increase
- Time until next salary increase.

26.8. ADMINISTRATIVE ADJUSTMENTS

FAROF reserves the right to make adjustments to an employee's salary, benefits, or grade level, as well as to make across-the-board adjustment to salaries and benefits. Examples include adjusting an employee's grade level or salary to bring it in line with those applied to other positions in the organization. Administrative adjustments must be supported by proper documentation with approval signatures.

27. SALARY ADVANCE

Purpose: To regulate the issuance of salary advances to staff and to document to required procedures.

Description: Salary Advances represent funds issued to employees with the understanding that the amounts advanced will be recovered as deductions against wages to be paid to the employees.

27.1. APPROVED USE OF SALARY ADVANCE

Employees may not receive advance payments against future salaries. In the rare case that the organization feels an exception is warranted, this requires the explicit approval of the CEO.

Salary advances are neither a “benefit” nor a "right" of employment; it is for truly exceptional emergency purposes. The advance must be cleared within three months of issuance or by termination of employment, whichever is soonest.

A salary advance may be issued for pay to be earned while on vacation or to fulfill an emergency need for funds to respond to a personal financial crisis, such as an illness in the family, an accident, death of a family member, or an eviction notice. In general, FAROF discourages the issuance of salary advances for reasons other than those specified above.

27.2. AMOUNT OF SALARY ADVANCE

Salary Advances, if granted, may not exceed ten per cent (10%) of the employee’s annual salary. Salary Advances must be recovered via payroll deduction or by reimbursement from the employee within ninety days of their issuance.

27.2.1. NUMBER OF APPROVED SALARY ADVANCES PERMITTED

Employees may receive no more than two advances within a twelve-month period.

27.2.2. ELIGIBILITY

Only full-time regular or contract employees who have completed probation are eligible to apply for salary advances. Temporary employees are not eligible to receive Salary Advances.

If an employee resigns or is dismissed before settling his/her salary advance, the remaining balance must be deducted from the severance pay or any other amount due that employee.

27.3. APPROVAL

It is against the organization’s policy for an employee to approve her/his own salary advance. To request a Salary Advance, the employee must submit the following to her/his immediate supervisor:

- A signed Salary Advance Request Form that indicates the reason for the Salary Advance, the amount needed, and the details of any other payroll advances received from FAROF during the previous twelve months.
- The Salary Advance Request Form must also contain a statement by the employee consenting to the repayment of the Salary Advance, if granted, to FAROF via payroll deduction.
- A Payment Request, indicating the amount requested.

The procedure is as follows:

1. For approval of an exception, the staff submits a salary advance application form to their supervisor for recommendation. The application is then submitted to the HRO who recommends to the CEO for approval. This form stipulates description of the need and proposed amount of the advance and repayment plan the amount, term of the advance, and repayment procedures.

2. The CEO approves the request.
3. Once the form is properly filled out, signed, and approved, the advance is issued by the finance unit.
4. Repayment is made through salary deductions over the course of a maximum of three months.
5. If the employee leaves prior to full repayment, the balance is deducted from his/her final paycheck.

The Director Business Office must carefully track approval, disbursement, and monitoring of repayment.

27.4. EMPLOYMENT TAXES, PENSION AND OTHER DEDUCTIONS

FAROF will deduct pay-as-you-earn tax, pension contributions and other deductions from the employee's monthly gross salary and remit to the government as required by law. All deductions and remittances must be documented.

27.5. EFFORT REPORTING

Purpose: Staff are paid on the basis of approved timesheets, which establish verified effort on project(s).

Description: Accurately recording time worked by Donor Source is the responsibility of every employee. Time worked, is all the time actually spent on the job performing assigned duties.

27.5.1. RECORD

Employees should accurately record the time they begin and end their work each day in the sign-in book at the reception area.

27.5.2. FALSIFICATION

- a. Altering, falsifying, tampering with time records, or signing in or out for another employee may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment.
- b. Accuracy in recording time is critical to the proper financial management of FAROF and all employees are expected to complete their monthly time sheets promptly and properly.

27.5.3. TIME SHEETS

At the end of the month, all employees must submit a duly completed and signed timesheet to their supervisor for review and approval before submitting to the Finance Dept. for payroll for processing. The below listed measures will be complied with:

- a. Staff must complete individual time sheets on a daily basis according to the actual time worked on a particular program (funding source), or vacation and sick days utilized. Staff must consult with supervisors for guidance on what funding sources to charge for costs.

- b. Managers must periodically conduct spot checks to ensure all staff members are completing their timesheets on a daily basis. This will be done by visually reviewing timesheets at workstations to ensure that employees have entered the time worked up to the previous day.
- c. Timesheets must be submitted to the Finance Department by the 23rd of the following month. If a timesheet is not received by 23rd of the month, FAROF has no justification to process salary payment and the staff member will not be paid.
- d. Staff proceeding on leave should submit their timesheet before going on leave.
- e. Failure to complete and submit accurate time sheets to your supervisor for approval on a monthly basis constitutes a serious breach of the FAROF policies and jeopardizes our ability to meet USG and other donor contractual obligations and may call for disciplinary action that may involve termination.

28. EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

This sub-section covers employee benefits with distinctions made as necessary.

28.1. ANNUAL LEAVE

Purpose: FAROF provides eligible employees with an annual paid vacation to provide opportunities for rest, relaxation, and personal pursuits.

Description: All employees are entitled to paid annual leave days during a fiscal year (i.e. January - December). This is to provide employees with time during the year to relax and enjoy time away from their job duties. This is subject to availability of funds and FAROF approval

28.1.1. ACCRUAL RATES

Full-time employees accrue annual leave according to the following schedule:

- Unconfirmed staff = Not eligible to annual leave
- Confirmed staff = 14 working days annual leave

Annual leave days begin to accrue on the date of receipt of confirmatory letter of hire.

28.1.2. ELIGIBILITY

Staff must successfully complete six months of employment with FAROF before applying for leave. Any employee on probation is not eligible to apply for annual leave.

28.1.3. ADVANCES

Annual leave may be advanced up to the total amount of days to be accrued in that leave year. If an employee who is advanced annual leave subsequently leaves the organization before all used leave is accrued, all unearned leave days will be deducted from the employee's final pay check or severance payment. New employees normally cannot be advanced annual leave in the first six months of employment, unless prearranged upon employment or under exceptional circumstances.

28.1.4. SCHEDULING

Regardless of an employee's date of hire, annual leave planning is done for all staff on an annual basis each January. Each January supervisors are responsible for working with their staff to develop a schedule of leave that takes into account work plans and targets.

While every effort shall be made to accommodate employee preferences for annual leave dates, the need of the organization to meet established targets and results based objectives will take precedence. Tentative annual leave schedules for all staff shall be submitted to Human Resources Officer by 31 December.

28.2. LEAVE REQUESTS AND APPROVAL

Employees shall formally request annual leave at least 10 working days prior to the proposed leave start date by submitting a Leave Application Form to their supervisor for approval. This advance notice is required to ensure adequate measures are in place for coverage while the employee is on leave. Leave days can be used in increments of half a day.

28.2.1. PROCEDURE

- Each department is responsible for developing a yearly departmental vacation schedule to ensure adequate coverage in the department. Department managers may, at their discretion, set a deadline for vacation requests in order to develop a master schedule.
- Vacation Leave is requested through the completion of a Leave Request Form.
- Supervisors may deny leave requests at their discretion due to such factors as conflicting vacation schedules or pending deadlines.
- When a vacation scheduling conflict arises, it is the supervisor's responsibility to work with the employees involved to develop an acceptable solution.
- Taking leave without authorization is grounds for disciplinary action up to and including termination.
- Failure to return from vacation leave as originally scheduled, or as extended, is a serious matter and may be cause for disciplinary action.
- Probationary staffs are not eligible to any form of leave, but may apply for a leave of absence and without pay.

28.3. DEFERRED LEAVE

Employees are strongly encouraged to take their annual leave each year. Unused annual leave days can only be carried over to 31st March of the next fiscal year with the prior approval of the Head of Department. A maximum of fifteen (15) working days can be carried over from one fiscal year to the next. However, no annual leave shall be deferred beyond 31st March of the following fiscal year.

Each January, staff will be advised by the Human Resources Officer (in writing) on the status of the previous year's leave and by when it must be taken. Carryover days will not be granted for normal business work load such as preparation of project and grant proposals, attendance at meetings and workshops and completion of routine work such as progress and financial reports or when a cancelled leave could have been reasonably re-scheduled. Any requests for exceptions to this must be approved before 31st December. When leave is deferred, the employee shall be paid the leave allowance for that contract year.

28.4. LEAVE AT SEPARATION

Because FAROF encourages its employees to take vacation each year, a cash payment in lieu of earned vacation days will be made only upon separation from FAROF. A maximum of ten accrued vacation days will be paid to the employee upon separation from the organization, as well as any outstanding leave allowance. In order to ensure adequate time to complete outstanding assignments and to hand over responsibilities to another staff member, employees are discouraged from taking vacation leave after submitting their letter of resignation.

28.5. HOLIDAYS

At the beginning of each FAROF fiscal year, which begins January 1st, the HRO must disseminate a memo with a list of holidays that will be observed that year. The list will usually include all official national holidays. If a holiday falls within the period of an employee's approved paid leave, he/she will not be charged leave on the holiday.

28.6. PERSONAL DAYS

In addition to the above paid holidays, all employees have six (6) personal days, termed Floating Holidays, as paid leave time. Floating Holidays are earned at the rate of one paid leave day for each two-month period worked starting from the day of employment. Floating Holidays may be used by an employee to observe personal holidays or for any other purpose. Earned Floating Holidays may not accumulate; they must be used within 12 months of the earned date.

28.7. COMPENSATION TIME

Policy: To guarantee that all FAROF employees whose work may occasionally require them to work on weekends or official FAROF-designated holidays receive the compensation time earned.

Description: Compensation time is intended to allow people to regain the days of rest that they have missed. All eligible work-related activities that may result in a request for compensation time must be pre-approved in writing by the CEO following a full justification request by the employee's supervisor before that work or travel is undertaken.

28.7.1. ACCRUAL OF COMPENSATION TIME

Compensation time will be earned in half and full days up to a maximum of twelve days in a given fiscal year. This leave cannot be accumulated to be taken with annual leave or other leave. The HR Officer will keep record of compensation time taken.

28.7.2. ELIGIBLE STAFF

Employees may be asked to work beyond normal office hours. Appropriate procedures to ensure that employees are given time off in lieu will be developed and implemented to ensure that such employees get required rest. Such employees should maintain a record of extra hours worked, these should be pre-approved.

28.7.3. USE OF COMPENSATION TIME

Use of compensation time cannot exceed two days per month.

Compensation time should be taken at a time agreed with the supervisor.

A Leave Application Form must be completed when taking this leave.

Compensatory leave shall not be granted for travel time.

28.7.4. COMPENSATION TIME FOR SENIOR STAFF

Managerial staff are not eligible for compensation time. However, occasionally there might be need for such staff to work on weekends or holidays in order to complete a proposal, conduct training or meet a major deadline. In such instances, the staff will be eligible for compensation time, provided that this is pre-approved in writing by the head of department (HOD). Post-approval is not allowed.

28.8. SICK LEAVE

Purpose: The organization provides paid sick leave in order to allow employees to recover from short term illness without the loss of pay.

Description: FAROF will provide twelve days of paid sick leave per year for all national employees for periods of temporary absence due to illness or injuries. Sick leave will be paid only for those days regularly scheduled to work. Accrued sick days are not paid upon separation from FAROF

28.8.1. USAGE OF SICK LEAVE

Employees accrue paid sick leave at the rate of one day per month which can be used in increments of half or whole days. Employees may use sick leave benefits for an absence due to their own illness or to care for an immediate family member (child, spouse, or parent) who resides in the employee's household.

a) If an employee needs to take more than two sick days in a week period to care for an ill family member, the employee must provide a doctor's note verifying the illness and need for care to their supervisor.

b) Employees may not take more than six paid sick days to care for an ill family member in any given fiscal year. If the employee requires additional paid leave, he/she should use accrued vacation or personal business leave.

c) Up to five sick days may be advanced in a fiscal year under special circumstances at the sole discretion of the CEO. The employee will be responsible for reimbursing FAROF for any unearned sick leave taken if the employee leaves FAROF.

d) If an employee becomes ill during annual leave, accrued sick leave may be used for the days where the employee is ill. In such a case, the employee must show proof an illness, such as a note from the doctor, to his/her supervisor and to the Human Resources Manager upon returning from leave.

28.8.2. TRACKING OF SICK LEAVE

Such verification may be requested for other sick leave absence as well and may be required as a condition to receiving sick leave benefits.

28.8.4. IMPROPER USE OF SICK LEAVE

28.9. MAJOR SICK LEAVE

Purpose: The organization provides paid sick leave in order to allow employees to recover from major illness without the loss of pay.

Personal Leaves of Absence are unpaid and will be approved on a case by case basis based on the needs of the organization, the reason for the request, frequency of past leaves of absence, and the employee's performance history. FAROF has established two types of Leaves of Absence: Short Term and Long Term. Approval is granted by the CEO.

28.13.1. LEAVE WITHOUT PAY

In a situation where an employee has already exhausted all of his/her available leave and has a reason to be absent from work, their supervisor in consultation with the Head of Department and HR Officer may approve leave without pay.

28.13.2. SHORT TERM LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Short Term Leaves of Absence are unpaid leaves of 30 days or less. With a Short Term Leave,

- Benefits will continue.
- Short Term Leaves will not affect seniority.
- Vacation and other leaves will not accrue during the leave.

With Short Term Leaves, the employee's employment is protected, but their position may not be held. Employees may apply for a Short Term leave every 3 years.

In the case of a short term leave of absence (30 days or less), consultancies are not allowed.

28.13.3. LONG TERM LEAVE OF ABSENCE:

Long Term Leave of Absence is an absence lasting from more than one month to one year. With a Long Term Leave,

- All benefits are discontinued.
- Paid leave time (vacation, sick and discretionary leave) does not accrue.
- There is no credit for the unpaid leave time towards seniority.

Employees who take a Long Term Leave of Absence are not guaranteed employment upon their return; however, they will be considered internal candidates and will have the internal job postings made available to them. Employees may apply for a Long Term leave every 5 years. Employees on a long term leave may be considered for consultancies; however, they must first end their long term leave of absence and resign as a FAROF employee in order to be eligible to work as an Independent Contractor (Consultant).

28.13.4. ELIGIBILITY

In order to be eligible for a personal unpaid leave of absence, all applicable accrued vacation leave must be depleted.

- a. Regular employees with at least one year of service are eligible to apply for a short term leave of absence.
- b. Regular employees who have been with FAROF for a minimum of 5 years are eligible for a long term leave of absence.

28.13.5. CONSIDERATION FOR LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Consideration will be given for the following factors in determining whether to grant a leave of absence:

Position

Length of service

Performance history

Reason for leave request

Frequency of past leaves of absence

Long-term absence for medical reasons shall be governed by the policy on Major Sick Leave.

28.13.6. PROCEDURE FOR REQUEST

Employees requesting a leave of absence must submit a plan describing how their responsibilities will be carried out while they are absent. Employees with supervisory responsibilities must submit more detailed explanations of how they will ensure that the staff they supervise will continue to perform up to standards. These plans may include provisions for regular communication with the office(s), transfer of responsibilities to other parties (as agreed to with the supervisor) and/or hiring of temporary staff. The employee's supervisor prior to review by the CEO must endorse all requests for leaves of absence. To apply for a leave of absence, the employee must complete the proper Leave Request Form. Leave of absence requests are approved at the sole discretion of the CEO.

28.13.7. TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT

Failure to report as scheduled following an unpaid leave of absence may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination from service. A long term leave of absence will be terminated if an employee accepts a position with another employer.

28.14. COMPASSIONATE & BEREAVEMENT LEAVE

All employees (including casual employees) are entitled to compassionate leave (also known as bereavement leave).

Compassionate leave can be taken when a member of an employee's immediate family or household dies or suffers a life-threatening illness or injury. Immediate family is an employee's: spouse, de facto partner, child, parent, grandparent, grandchild, sibling, or a child, parent, grandparent, grandchild or sibling of the employee's spouse or de facto partner.

Employees will be able to take compassionate leave for other relatives (eg. cousins, aunts and uncles) if they are a member of the employee's household, or if the employer agrees to this.

28.14.1. Amount of compassionate leave

All employees are entitled to 3 days compassionate leave each time an immediate family or household member dies or suffers a life-threatening illness or injury.

The compassionate leave can be taken as:

- a single continuous 3 day period, or
- 3 separate periods of 1 day each, or
- any separate periods the employee and the employer agree.

An employee does not accumulate compassionate leave and it doesn't come out of their sick and carer's leave (or annual leave) balance. It can be taken any time an employee needs it.

If an employee is already on another type of leave (eg. annual leave) and needs to take compassionate leave, the employee can use compassionate leave instead of the other leave.

28.14.2. Payment for compassionate leave

Full-time and part-time employees receive paid compassionate leave and casual employees receive unpaid compassionate leave.

Full-time and part-time employees are paid at their base pay rate for the ordinary hours they would have worked during the leave. This doesn't include separate entitlements such as incentive-based payments and bonuses, loadings, monetary allowances, overtime or penalty rates. Compassionate leave can't be cashed out.

28.14.3. Notice and evidence

An employee taking compassionate leave must give the organization notice through their supervisor as soon as they can (this may be after the leave has started). The employee must tell the organization of the period, or expected period, of the leave. The employee must submit evidence about the reason for compassionate leave (eg. a death or funeral notice or statutory declaration). This request for evidence has to be reasonable. If the employee doesn't provide the requested notice or evidence, they may not get compassionate leave

Purpose: FAROF offers to all employees a Personal Accident and Life Insurance to provide a level of financial security for employees and their families

It is a condition precedent to the payment of the above medical benefits, that the Medical attendant's detailed information shall be vetted and approved by the insurance company.

28.16. LIFE INSURANCE COVERAGE AND BENEFITS

FAROF provides all employees with a basic life insurance death benefit equal to three times the employee's annual gross salary.

In the case of an accidental death during work, the Workmen's Compensation/Group Accident policy provides an additional death benefit of three & half times the annual gross salary.

- a. war, invasion, act of foreign enemy, hostilities (whether caused by war or not), civil war, rebellion, revolution, insurrection, military or usurped power.
- b. suicide
- c. death caused by the deliberate and intentional act of the beneficiary or third party who acquire interest in the policy.

28.16.1. BENEFICIARY CLAIMS FOR LIFE INSURANCE AND ACCIDENTAL DEATH

At the time of hire, all employees are to complete and submit to the HR Officer a “Life Insurance Beneficiary Record Card”. The dependents listed on this form will be paid the death benefit. This form is maintained in the personnel files and updated as needed with any new information. In the event of a claim for death benefits, the death certificate must accompany the request before the benefit can be paid out.

28.16.2. ELIGIBILITY AND CLAIM PROCEDURES

Criteria of eligibility as well as claim procedures are determined by the insurance provider. However, FAROF will support affected staff in their efforts to access any of these benefits. The HR unit has the internal responsibility of coordinating this procedure for the organization.

28.16.3. FAROF CONTRIBUTION IN CASE OF DEATH.

Notwithstanding the insurable benefits accruable to a staffs’ family, in an event of an employee’s death, the organization shall offer to make arrangements for conveyance of the corpse to the point of burial. In addition, FAROF will offer to cover funeral expenses up to a maximum of N100,000. Subject to the availability of funds.

Description: FAROF recognizes that staff have preferences for where to obtain medical care, and that medical care required varies from employee to employee.

28.17.1. AMOUNT OF HEALTH BENEFIT

Every financial year (prorated for new employees to start date) each employee and their family members will be entitled to health insurance and the organization will purchase a health insurance plan and pay the premium to assistance to pay medical bills. Subject to the availability of funds.

28.17.5. APPROVED HEALTH FACILITIES

As provided by the HMO

28.17.6. CONFIDENTIALITY

All the staff involved in the processing of medical information shall treat personal medical data confidentially. Disclosure of personal medical information, even as a result of negligence, will result in disciplinary action.

29. DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURE

Purpose: A disciplinary procedure is a process for dealing with perceived employee misconduct. The organization typically has a wide range of disciplinary procedures to invoke depending on the severity of the transgression. Disciplinary procedures vary between informal and formal processes.

Description: It is the organization's expectation that all employees will conduct themselves according to generally accepted standards of conduct and performance. When employees do not meet these standards, it is the supervisor's responsibility to act in a timely manner and initiate a program of disciplinary steps to address the problem. Examples of situations which may require the supervisor to take immediate action include, but are not limited to, fighting in the workplace, theft, refusal to perform work, excessive absenteeism, sexual harassment, alcohol and drug use in the work place or chronic tardiness.

This policy presents the basic principles and procedures of a system of progressive discipline which is intended to ensure that all employees are treated as consistently and fairly as possible throughout the organization.

The disciplinary program has four major purposes:

1. To ensure that the employee knows what the problem is;
2. To communicate what the supervisor's expectations are in order for the employee to correct the problem;
3. To provide appropriate penalties for improper work conduct; and

4. To provide a record of corrective action taken by supervisors in such problem situations.

29.1. Application of this Policy

29.1.1. Progressive Discipline

Preliminary Prior to moving to formal discipline the supervisor should do the following:

Actions

1. Do a fact-finding, which includes collection of all relevant information and applicable records.
2. Hold a discussion in private with the employee. During the discussion the supervisor should state the problem clearly and allow the employee to respond.
3. Follow up with the employee after the meeting and after all information has been gathered, to report the findings. If the supervisor intends to move to formal discipline, the employee should be told at the conclusion of the follow-up meeting or as soon after as possible. It should be made clear to the employee which level or step of the discipline process is being applied.
4. Provide a follow up letter as soon after the meeting as possible. The letter should include the date and time of the follow-up meeting, a brief statement of the problem, the supervisor's expectations, and the conclusion reached in the meeting. The stage of discipline must be clearly noted and a statement made that lack of improvement will result in further discipline.

29.1.2. Steps of Progressive Discipline

There are four steps in the progressive discipline process; however, in cases of misconduct or repeated infractions, the process may be shortened and the supervisor, in consultation with the Office of Human Resources, may move directly to a later step in the process, including termination.

All disciplinary action should be taken within a reasonable amount of time when the supervisor learns or has knowledge of the offense and the action is taken.

Oral Warning Oral warnings are appropriate for minor first offenses. It is important that supervisors not overuse the oral warning for the same type of offense no more than two oral warnings should be given.

The supervisor should have a full discussion with the employee before giving the warning to ensure that the employee has the opportunity to respond or to give additional information. If the supervisor believes that an oral warning is appropriate, it should be made clear to the employee that the oral warning is the first step in the progressive discipline process. The oral warning should be documented for the supervisor's record and it is recommended that a note summarizing the warning be given to the employee. The record and note should record the date, time and reason for the warning.

The oral warning remains in effect for 18 months.

Written Warning

Written Warning. After an employee has received an oral warning, a subsequent offense should be addressed by a written reprimand as appropriate. Supervisors must review the draft of the written reprimand with the Office of Human Resources. The supervisor and employee first meet to discuss the problem. In the discussion, the supervisor must review the incident or performance problem which requires the reprimand and the supervisor and employee should exchange ideas and information regarding solution(s) to the problem. The written reprimand should be given to the employee directly following the discussion, with copies to the Office of Human Resources and the employee's official personnel file.

The written warning should:

- Be identified as a disciplinary warning;
- Describe as specifically as possible the situation which prompted the warning; including day, date, time, location, and what the supervisor saw or heard;
- Indicate why the behavior or performance is unacceptable;
- Review the decisions that were reached during the discussion regarding how the employee would correct the problem;
- State that if the behavior continues or other problems occur, additional corrective measures may be taken, which may result in termination of employment.

If the written warning is given without a prior discussion regarding the incident between the supervisor and employee, the supervisor should discuss the matter with the employee when giving the employee the warning.

Written warnings are retained in the employee's formal record for 18 months.

Suspension

Suspension. Suspension is the third step of the disciplinary procedure. It is intended to indicate to the employee the seriousness of the infraction and that the employee can reasonably expect that the next step is termination of employment.

Before determining if an employee should be suspended, the constituted disciplinary committee must meet with the employee to discuss the incident or problem and consult with the Office of Human Resources.

The employee should be notified in writing of the suspension as soon as possible. The letter should outline the reason for the suspension and the dates of the suspension. Suspensions are normally for one (1) to ten (10) consecutive work days and the dates are determined by the committee in consultation with Human Resources. Longer suspensions because of severe infractions may be given and scheduled at the convenience of management. The employee should be warned that continuation of the behavior may result in termination of employment.

Normally suspensions are without pay, although if an investigation of events is necessary the employee may be suspended with pay, pending results of the investigation. Supervisors should consult with the Office of Human Resources regarding pay. There may be instances when a final written warning may be more appropriate, and may, upon consultation with the Office of Human Resources, substitute for a suspension (for example when discipline is for a pattern of absenteeism).

Termination Termination of employment is the culmination of the progressive discipline process or the penalty for very serious offenses. A constituted disciplinary committee should conduct a pre-termination hearing. The purpose of the hearing is to review with the employee's offence, past record and any new circumstances leading to the request to terminate.

30. SEPARATION FROM FAROF

Purpose: Employment with FAROF is based on mutual consent, both the employee and FAROF have the right to terminate employment with or without cause at any time giving a one month notice where required.

Description: Termination of employment is an inevitable part of personnel activity within any organization, and many of the reasons for termination are routine. All cases of separation from FAROF by an employee will be treated as per the terms of employment and the provisions of this manual.

30.1. REASONS FOR SEPARATION

Below are listed some of the common circumstances under which employment is terminated:

- Resignation – voluntary employment termination initiated by an employee
- Redundancy – involuntary employment termination initiated by the organization for non-disciplinary reasons. Depending on the nature and volume of its operation, FAROF may declare certain positions redundant. Persons occupying those positions will therefore be forced to be separated from FAROF with proper notice. While doing so, FAROF will give at least 1 month notice in advance.
- Death - When an employee dies, his/her salary and benefits will automatically be paid to his/her legal heirs.

- Intimate relationship between Employees - Employee of opposite sex are prohibited from having intimate relationship, if found you shall be on an indefinite suspension and finally termination of appointment, although married couples may be considered base on decision by the Board of trustee
- Termination for Cause – involuntary employment termination initiated by the organization for performance or disciplinary reasons.
- Termination for health reasons.
- Summary Discharge or Dismissal – involuntary employment termination initiated by the organization for major offences
- Retirement – voluntary employment termination initiated by the employee meeting age, length of service, and any other criteria for retirement from the organization.

30.2. RETIREMENT

Staff must retire at the retirement age laid down by the government; presently Federal civil servants retire after 35 years of service or upon attaining 70 years of age, whichever is sooner. Where staff continue to be employed beyond this age by mutual agreement between the CEO and the employee this will be on a fixed renewable term contract of one year.

30.3. PROBATIONARY TERMINATION/SUSPENSION

FAROF can terminate the employment of a staff member on probation before the period of probation expires without payment of any form of wages. The letter of termination should be signed by the CEO and should be given to the probationer by his/her supervisor and the CEO.

30.4. DISCIPLINARY TERMINATION

Termination due to a major offence resulting in summary dismissal can take place without notice in accordance with the provisions of this manual. Such employees will not receive any separation benefits. Termination due to other offences, not resulting in summary dismissal, shall take place with prior notice up to a maximum of one month or payment in lieu of notice.

30.5. RESIGNATION

All staff members have the right to resign from their service at any time. The notice of resignation should be done in writing directed to the CEO. A period of one month's notice or equivalent of one month's gross salary in lieu of notice will be required.

Absence from work without good reason for over five consecutive working days shall be considered resignation without notice and the right to terminate the employment of the staff member is in accordance with the disciplinary provisions stated in this manual.

When leaving FAROF due to voluntary resignation, an employee is entitled to any accrued annual leave up to a maximum of 10 days and gratuity if they have worked continuously with FAROF for over three years

30.6. TERMINATION DUE TO ILL HEALTH/TERMINAL ILLNESS

The employment of a staff member can be terminated for reasons of health or disability, if such an employee has been certified unfit by a medical board to carry out their obligations under the terms of employment. The medical board will be comprised of no more than three persons (a medical practitioner, the staff's supervisor, and the HR Officer) and will be convened for all health-related terminations. If an employee takes the maximum amount of leave allocated to them (sick leave, annual leave, and leave of absence) and is still unable to return to work due to health reasons, he/she shall be subjected to the medical board that will determine the staff's ability to continue in the service of the organization. The CEO shall have the right to initiate termination of the services of a staff member who is incapacitated by reasons of mental or physical conditions. Before such a termination is initiated, an effort shall be made by FAROF to find a position, which can be compatible with the staff member's health and qualifications. The initiation of such a termination begins by sending a confidential letter to the staff member stating the reasons for termination and asking for a response from the employee within 2 weeks. In case of not responding, the employee can be immediately terminated. In case of disagreement the CEO shall convene a medical Board to examine the staff member and based on the report make the final decision. In the case of injury while in active service, the Group Personal Accident policy taken by the Agency for staff will apply.

30.7. CESSATION OF THE ORGANIZATION

In an event that entails the cessation of FAROF, all staff shall be made redundant (severed) in accordance with the policy outlined in this manual. This also applies to the closure of a program or project on which an employee has been working. Severance benefit will be paid to staff that are made redundant. This is based on the availability of fund.

30.8. POOR PERFORMANCE

The employment of any staff may be terminated due to inability to perform prescribed duties in a satisfactory manner. Poor performance will be dealt with according to the progressive discipline procedure described above.

30.9. IMPRISONMENT/CONVICTION OF AN OFFENCE

Employees must report to their supervisor any charges brought against them for criminal offences, including traffic offences involving a FAROF vehicle.

Absence from work due to a sentence of imprisonment passed against a staff member for more than 30 days shall be subject to termination. An employee shall be terminated if they are convicted for an offence where such conviction renders them unsuitable for the position held.

30.10. EXIT INTERVIEW

FAROF will schedule exit interviews at the time of employment termination. The exit interview will give employee and employer the chance to discuss such issues as employee benefits, repayment of outstanding debts to FAROF (deducted from final salary payment) and return of FAROF equipment.

Suggestions, complaints and questions can also be voiced. Employees retain the right to refuse to participate in an exit interview. Refusal shall be documented along with all other relevant facts regarding termination of service.

30.11. TERMINATION CHECKLIST

A termination checklist will be completed by the supervisor (with assistance from Finance and Administration department). Final salary will not be given until all sections are completed satisfactorily.

30.12. TERMINATION PAYMENTS

Termination payments will be made to staff on their final day of employment with FAROF (provided the termination checklist has been completed and there are no outstanding issues).

If a staff member has outstanding advances or payables to FAROF, these will be deducted from receivables by an employee and the final pay. A detailed listing of the final pay shall be given to the employee.

If FAROF owes any amount to an employee, the money shall be transferred into the employee's bank account. If an employee owes any amount to FAROF, the employee must make this payment before separation from FAROF.

30.13. TERMINATION & SEVERANCE PAY/GRATUITY

Purpose: Severance benefit is to help cushion the financial impact of job loss when an employee is terminated through no fault of his or her own.

Description: FAROF will pay severance benefit to compensate employees who are terminated as a result of downsizing, redundancy, realignment, retrenchment, elimination of the position or closure of the program, and other causes not within the employee's control. This is based on the availability of funds.

30.13.1. COMPUTATION OF SEVERANCE BENEFIT

If an employee is made redundant, he/she will be entitled to a severance compensation equivalent to one-month salary for every completed year of service. This will be prorated for any uncompleted year of service.

Example of Computation: An employee earning N120,000 per month is made redundant after working continuously for 7 years and 5 months. His/her severance benefit will be computed as follows:

$5/12 @ 120,000 = N 50,000$

Total = N 50,000

30.14. TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT

Where employment is terminated by either the employee or Employer (FAROF), the employee will be entitled to:

- a. Payment of outstanding salary earned.
- b. Payment for any outstanding leave days up to a maximum of 10 days.
- c. Any outstanding leave allowance payment.
- d. Any accrued gratuity benefits earned (resignation only), or
- e. Any accrued severance benefits (redundancy) if applicable

These payments are contingent upon submission of all FAROF property that was assigned to the employee.

30.15. OUTSTANDING FINANCIAL OBLIGATIONS

In the event that an employee has outstanding financial obligations to FAROF, such as un-liquidated advances, lost or damaged equipment, unmet training obligations, etc, severance/gratuity pay shall be subject to garnishment.

30.16. NOTIFICATION OF TERMINATION

Any permanent employee who wishes to resign must do so by giving one month's notice in writing or paying up one month's salary in lieu of notice. Annual leave cannot be used in lieu of notice.

Employees in good standing who are terminated without cause or declared redundant shall be given a month's written notice. Where this is not possible, they would be given one-month salary in lieu of notice. Terminated employees will be compensated at their regular salary rate for unused annual leave.

30.17. ALTERNATIVE POSITIONS

Whenever redundancy occurs, FAROF will endeavor, where possible to offer alternative positions to the affected employee, based on program needs and the employee's experience and background. This may result in a change of job location, title, duties etc.

In cases where an alternative position is offered, which does not result in a reduction of rank or salary but which the employee is unable or unwilling to accept, the employee will be deemed to have resigned and will not be entitled to severance pay.

30.18. GRATUITY (LONG SERVICE PAYMENT)

a. Applicability

All confirmed staff of FAROF who have completed a second year of continuous employment are eligible for gratuity or long service pay at resignation only.

b. Calculation of Gratuity Benefits

See above employee benefits

c. Eligibility

Gratuity benefits will only be paid upon an employee's separation from FAROF by way of resignation. Staff who are terminated for cause or dismissed summarily are not entitled to gratuity payment.

Any employee terminated for reason such as redundancy will be eligible for severance pay in lieu of gratuity, subject to the approval of FAROF Management.

31. FAROF PERSONAL INFORMATION AND DATA PROTECTION GUIDANCE

31.1. AUDIENCE

The information contained in this document is intended for general distribution. However, it is especially important that senior management in the organization are aware of the contents of the document as the responsibility rests with them to ensure that the guidelines contained in it are followed. The guidelines will also be brought to the attention of all staff whose work involves the handling of personal data.

31.2. GENERAL PROCEDURES

This document sets out guidelines in a number of specific areas where particular attention will be paid in order to help protect the confidentiality of personal data held in a Department. There are, however, a number of general procedures which FAROF will follow:

1. The first stage in establishing policies and procedures to ensure the protection of personal data is to know what data is held, where it is held and what the consequences would be will that data be lost or stolen. With that in mind, as a first step FAROF will conduct an audit identifying the types of personal data held within the organisation, identifying and listing all information repositories holding personal data and their location. Risks associated with the storage, handling and protection of this data will be included in FAROF's risk register. FAROF can then establish whether the security measures in place are appropriate and proportionate to the data being held while also taking on board the guidelines available in this document;
2. Access to all data centres and server rooms used to host hardware and software on which personal data is stored will be restricted only to those staff members that have clearance to work there. This will, where possible, entail swipe card and/or PIN technology to the room(s) in question – such a system will record when, where and by whom the room was accessed. These access records and procedures will be reviewed by management regularly;
3. Access to systems which are no longer in active use and which contain personal data will be removed where such access is no longer necessary or cannot be justified;
4. Passwords used to access PCs, applications, databases, etc will be of sufficient strength to deter password cracking or guessing attacks. A password will include numbers, symbols, upper and lowercase letters. If possible, password length will be around 12 to 14 characters but at the very FAROF HR Policy minimum 8 characters. Passwords based on repetition, dictionary words, letter or number sequences, usernames, or biographical information like names or dates must be avoided. FAROF must also ensure that passwords are changed on a regular basis;

5. FAROF will have procedures in place to properly evaluate requests from other organisations for access to personal data in its possession. Such procedures will assist FAROF in assessing whether the release of personal data is fully justifiable under the Data Protection Acts. FAROF will also ensure that access by staff of personal data for analysis or research purposes is fully justifiable and proportionate;

6. Personnel who retire, transfer from the Department, resign etc. will be removed immediately from mailing lists and access control lists. Relevant changes will also occur when staff are transferred to other assignments internally. It is the responsibility of FAROF to ensure that procedures are in place to support this, i.e. so that notification is provided to the relevant individual(s)/Unit in a timely fashion;

7. Contractors, consultants and external service providers employed by FAROF will be subject to strict procedures with regard to accessing personal data by way of formal contract in line with the provisions of the Data Protection Acts. The terms of the contract and undertakings given will be subject to review and audit to ensure compliance;

8. FAROF will have in place an up-to-date Acceptable Usage Policy in relation to the use of Information and Communications Technology (e.g. telephone, mobile phone, fax, email, internet, intranet and remote access, etc.) by its staff. This policy will be understood and signed by each user of such technology in the Department;

9. FAROF' Audit Committees, when determining in consultation with Secretaries General (or CEOs, etc. where relevant) the work programme of their Internal Audit Units (IAUs), will ensure that the programme contains adequate coverage by IAUs of areas within their organisations which are responsible for the storage, handling and protection of personal data. The particular focus of any review by IAUs would be on assessing the adequacy of the control systems designed, in place and operated in these areas for the purpose of minimising the risk of any breach of data protection regulations. Risks associated with the storage, handling and protection of personal data will be included in the organization's risk register and risk assessments will take place as part of the organization's risk strategy exercise. Furthermore, external audits of all aspects of Data Protection within the organisation may be conducted on a periodic basis by the Office of the Data Protection Commissioner.

10. Procedures will be put in place in relation to disposal of files (both paper and electronic) containing personal data. It will be noted that incoming and outgoing emails which are 'of enduring interest' are archivable records. Procedures will also be put in place in relation to the secure disposal of computer equipment (especially storage media) at end-of-life. This could include the use of degaussers, erasers and physical destruction devices, etc;

11. Quality Customer Service documentation/customer charters will detail how customers' data is held and how it will be used/not used. Website privacy statements will be regularly reviewed to take account FAROF HR Policy of any enhancements, new practices or additional services which involve the collection and use of personal data;

12. New staff will be carefully coached and trained before being allowed to access confidential or personal files;

13. Staff will ensure that callers to the office or other unauthorised persons are unable to view personal or sensitive information whether held on paper documents or information displayed on PC monitors, etc.;

14. All staff will ensure that PCs are logged off or 'locked' when left unattended for any period of time (e.g. in Windows, using Ctrl+Alt+Del keys). Where possible, staff will be restricted from saving files to the local disk. Users will be instructed to only save files to their allocated network drive;

15. Personal and sensitive information will be locked away when not in use or at end of day;

16. Appropriate filing procedures (both paper and electronic) will be drawn up and followed;

17. Any databases or applications in use by FAROF which contain personal data must be registered with the Office of the Data Protection Commissioner.

31.3. PAPER RECORDS

The Data Protection Acts apply equally to personal data held on ICT systems and on paper files. The following guidelines will be followed with regard to personal and sensitive data held on paper files:

1. Paper records and files containing personal data will be handled in such a way as to restrict access only to those persons with business reasons to access them;

2. This will entail the operation of a policy whereby paper files containing such data are locked away when not required;

3. Consideration will also be given to logging access to paper files containing such data and information items;

4. Personal and sensitive information held on paper must be kept hidden from callers to offices;

5. Secure disposal of confidential waste will be in place and properly used. If third parties are employed to carry out such disposal, they must contractually agree to the Department's data protection procedures and ensure that the confidentiality of all personal data is protected. Such contracts will contain clauses similar to those outlined in the section on 'Data Transfers' below;

6. When paper files are transferred within a department, this usually entails hand delivery. However, it will be noted that, in many cases, internal post in FAROF ultimately feeds into the general postal system (this is particularly true for FAROF with disparate locations). In these instances, senders must consider registered mail or guaranteed parcel post service where appropriate.

Procedures must be in place for ensuring that the data is delivered only to the person to whom it is addressed, or another officer clearly acting on their behalf, and not any other staff member. Consideration will also be given to the security of manual files when in transit internally;

7. Facsimile technology (fax machines) will not be used for transmitting documents containing personal data.

31.4. EMAIL AND PERSONAL PRODUCTIVITY SOFTWARE

Email and other personal productivity software such as word processing applications, spreadsheets, etc. are valuable business tools which are in use across every Department. However, FAROF must take extreme care in using this software where personal and sensitive data is concerned. In particular:

1. Standard unencrypted email will never be used to transmit any data of a personal or sensitive nature. FAROF that wish to use email to transfer such data must ensure that personal or sensitive information is encrypted either through file encryption or through the use of a secure email facility which will encrypt the data (including any attachments) being sent. The strongest encryption methods available will be used. FAROF will also ensure that such email is sent only to the intended recipient. In order to ensure interoperability and to avoid significant key management costs, particular attention will be paid to any central solutions put in place for this purpose;
2. FAROF will consider implementing solutions that scan outgoing emails and attachments for keywords that would indicate the presence of personal data and, if appropriate, prevent its transmission;
3. Where personal or sensitive data is held on applications and databases with relevant security and access controls in place, additional controls will be considered that would prevent such data from being copied to personal productivity software (such as word processing applications, spreadsheets, etc.) where no security or access controls are in place and/or can be bypassed.

31.5. REMOTE ACCESS

There is an increasing business requirement for mobile working and e-working across the public service. Consequently, the demand from staff to access remotely the same systems that they can access from the office is increasing. This brings its own challenges in relation to data security which FAROF must address. With regard to personal and sensitive data, the following guidelines will be adhered to:

1. In the first instance, all personal and sensitive data held electronically will be stored centrally (e.g. in a data centre or in a department's secure server room with documented security in place). Data that is readily available via remote access will not be copied to client PCs or to portable storage devices, such as laptops, memory sticks, etc. that may be stolen or lost;
2. When accessing this data remotely, it must be done via a secure encrypted link (e.g. IPSEC or SSL VPN tunnel) with relevant access controls in place;
3. Additional stringent security and access controls will be in place, e.g. the mandatory use of strong passwords and security token authentication (i.e. two factor authentication);

4. Data being accessed in this way will be prevented from being copied from the central location to the remote machine;
5. FAROF must utilise technologies that will provide for the automatic deletion of temporary files which may be stored on remote machines by its operating system;
6. FAROF will ensure that only known machines (whether desktop PC, laptop, mobile phone, PDA, etc.) configured appropriately to the Department's standards (e.g. with up-to-date anti-virus and anti-spyware software, full encryption, etc.), are allowed to remotely access centrally held personal or sensitive data. The strongest encryption methods available will be used to encrypt data on these machines. In addition, 'strong' passwords/passphrases (see 'General Procedures') must be used to protect access to these machines and to encrypt/decrypt the data held on them;
7. Staff will be aware that it is imperative that any wireless technologies/networks used when accessing the Department's systems will be encrypted to the strongest standard available.

31.6. LAPTOPS AND OTHER MOBILE STORAGE DEVICES (INCL. MOBILE PHONES, PDAS, USB MEMORY STICKS, EXTERNAL HARD DRIVES, ETC.)

The use of laptops, USB memory sticks and other portable or removable storage has increased substantially in the last number of years. Likewise, the use of personal communications and storage devices such as mobile phones, PDAs, etc. has also increased. These devices are useful tools to meet the business needs of staff. They are, however, highly susceptible to loss or theft. To protect the content held on these devices, the following recommendations will be followed:

1. All portable devices will be password-protected to prevent unauthorised use of the device and unauthorised access to information held on the device. In the case of mobile phones, both a PIN and login password will be used. Manufacturer or operator-provided PIN codes must be changed from the default setting by the user on receipt of the device;
2. Passwords used on these devices will be of sufficient strength to deter password cracking or guessing attacks. A password will include numbers, symbols, upper and lowercase letters. Password length will ideally be around 12 to 14 characters but at the very minimum 8 characters. Passwords based on repetition, dictionary words, letter or number sequences, usernames, or biographical information like names or dates must be avoided. FAROF must ensure that passwords are regularly changed;
3. Personal, private, sensitive or confidential data will not be stored on portable devices. In cases where this is unavoidable, all devices containing this type of data must be encrypted. With regards to laptops, full disk encryption must be employed regardless of the type of data stored;
4. With regards to mobile technologies, staff will be aware that when 'roaming' abroad, communications may not be as secure as they would be within Ireland;
5. Data held on portable devices will be backed up regularly to the organization's servers;

6. When portable computing devices are being used in public places, care must be taken to avoid unwitting disclosure of information, e.g. through overlooking or overhearing by unauthorised persons;
7. Portable devices must not contain unauthorised, unlicensed or personally licensed software. All software must be authorised and procured through a Department's IT Unit;
8. Anti-virus/Anti-spyware/Personal Firewall software must be installed and kept up to date on portable devices. These devices will be subjected to regular virus checks using this software;
9. FAROF will ensure that when providing portable devices for use by staff members, each device is authorised for use by a specific named individual. The responsibility for the physical safeguarding of the device will then rest with that individual;
10. Laptops must be physically secured if left in the office overnight. When out of the office, the device will be kept secure at all times;
11. Portable devices will never be left in an unattended vehicle;
12. Portable storage media will only be used for data transfer where there is a business requirement to do so, will only be used on approved workstations and must be encrypted;
13. In order to minimise incidents of unauthorised access and/or incidents of lost/stolen data, FAROF will restrict the use of personal storage media and devices (e.g. floppy disks, CDs, DVDs, USB memory sticks, etc.) to staff that require to use these media/devices for business purposes;
14. Only storage media provided by a Department's IT Unit will be permitted for use with that Department's computer equipment. FAROF must put in place solutions which only allow officially sanctioned media to be used on a department's computer equipment (i.e. on networks, USB ports, etc.);
15. Staff owned devices such as portable media players (e.g. iPods, etc.), digital cameras, USB sticks, etc. must be technologically restricted from connecting to Department computers;
16. FAROF will consider implementing additional log-in controls on portable devices such as laptops;
17. FAROF will implement technologies that will allow the remote deletion of personal data from portable devices (such as mobile phones and PDAs) will such devices be lost or stolen. A procedure for early notification of such loss will be put in place. This would allow for the disconnection of the missing device from a Department's email, calendar and file systems;
18. FAROF will implement procedures that will ensure that personal data held on mobile storage devices is fully deleted when the data is no longer required (e.g. through fully formatting the devices' hard

31.7. DATA TRANSFERS

Data Transfers are a daily business requirement for most, if not all, Government FAROF. With regard to personal and sensitive data, such transfers will take place only where absolutely necessary, using the most secure channel available. To support this, FAROF will adhere to the following:

1. Data transfers will, where possible, only take place via secure on-line channels where the data is encrypted rather than copying to media for transportation. Where this is not possible or appropriate at present, the safety of the data will be ensured before, during and after transit;
2. Manual data transfers using removable physical media (e.g. memory sticks, CDs, tape, etc.) will end where possible;
3. In the meantime, where data is copied to removable media for transportation such data must be encrypted using the strongest possible encryption method available. Strong passwords/passphrases (see 'General Procedures') must be used to encrypt/decrypt the data;
4. Any such encrypted media will wherever possible be accompanied by a member of the Department's staff, be delivered directly to, and be signed for by, the intended recipient. If this is not possible, the use of registered post or another certifiable delivery method may be used if an agreement similar to that outlined in 7. below has been put in place;
5. 'Strong' passwords (see 'General Procedures') must be used to protect any encrypted data. Such passwords must not be sent with the data it is intended to protect. Care will be taken to ensure that the password is sent securely to the intended recipient and that it is not disclosed to any other person;
6. Standard email will never be used to transmit any data of a personal or sensitive nature. FAROF that wish to use email to transfer such data must ensure that personal or sensitive information is encrypted either through file encryption or through the use of a secure email facility which will encrypt the data (including any attachments) being sent. Staff will ensure that such mail is sent only to the intended recipient. In order to ensure interoperability and to avoid significant key management costs, particular attention will be paid to any central solutions put in place for this purpose;
7. When a data transfer with a third party is required (including to/from other Government FAROF), a written agreement will be put in place between both parties in advance of any data transfer. Such an agreement will define:
 - The information that is required by the third party (the purposes for which the information can be used will also be defined if the recipient party is carrying out processing on behalf of the organisation);
 - Named contacts in each organisation responsible for the data;
 - The frequency of the proposed transfers;
 - An explanation of the requirement for the information/data transfer;
 - The transfer method that will be used (e.g. Secure FTP, Secure email, etc.);
 - The encryption method that will be used;
 - The acknowledgement procedures on receipt of the data;
 - The length of time the information will be retained by the third party;

- Confirmation from the third party that the information will be handled to the same level of controls that the Department apply to that category of information;
- Confirmation as to the point at which the third party will take over responsibility for protecting the data (e.g. on confirmed receipt of the data);
- The method of secure disposal of the transfer media and the timeline for disposal;
- The method for highlighting breaches in the transfer process;
- For data controller to data controller transfers (as opposed to a data controller to a data processor transfer), it needs to be clear that only necessary data is transferred to meet the purposes;
- Business procedures need to be in place to ensure that all such transfers are legal, justifiable and that only necessary data is transferred to meet the purposes;
- Particular attention will be focused on data made available to third party data processors under contract for testing purposes. Live data will not be used for this purpose.

31.8. USE AND DISSEMINATION OF COMPANY INFORMATION

“Information,” as the term is used in this policy, includes without limitation any information owned or used by FAROF, such as:

- Any FAROF employee, Partners or client lists.
- Any FAROF database information, including addresses and telephone numbers.
- Any information from FAROF employee personnel files, including employee addresses, telephone numbers, employment status and wage history.
- Any photographs, videotapes and sound clips of any FAROF employee, customer or client.

Only those employees who are authorized by FAROF’s board of directors or executive team, or whose job description permits them to do so, may speak on behalf of FAROF. Notwithstanding the foregoing, specific permission from FAROF’s board of directors or executive team will be required before any FAROF employee may disseminate confidential FAROF’s information.

No employee may knowingly dispense such information to any outside party unless authorization has been granted. This could include other employees who do not have the right to know such information. Any breach will be considered a violation of FAROF’s policy concerning confidentiality, and it may constitute a violation of state or federal law.

31.9. MONITORING OF NETWORK COMMUNICATIONS

FAROF reserves the right to monitor at any time any communications that use FAROF networks in any way, including data, voice mail, telephone logs, Internet use and network traffic, to determine proper use.

FAROF will review network communications activity and will analyze use patterns. FAROF may choose to publish these data to ensure that FAROF resources in these areas are being used according to this policy.

No employee may knowingly disable any network software or system identified as a monitoring tool.

31.9.1. APPROPRIATE ACCESS AND AUDIT TRAIL MONITORING

All organisations have an obligation to keep information ‘safe and secure’ and have appropriate measures in place to prevent “unauthorised access to, or alteration, disclosure or destruction of, the data and against their accidental loss or destruction” in compliance with sections 2(1)(d) and 2C of the Data Protection Acts 1988 & 2003. It is imperative, therefore, that FAROF have security in place to ensure that only those staff members with a business need to access a particular set of personal or sensitive data are allowed to access that data. In addition to this general requirement, the following guidelines will be followed:

1. FAROF will ensure that their ICT systems are protected by use of appropriate firewall technologies and that this technology is kept up-to-date and is sufficient to meet emerging threats;
2. In order to capture instances of inappropriate access (whether internal or external), addition, deletion and editing of data, audit trails will be used where technically possible. In situations where systems containing personal data do not currently record ‘view’ or ‘read’ access, it will be investigated, as a matter of urgency whether such functionality can be enabled. In carrying out such an investigation, FAROF will take into account whether there would be any effect on system performance that may hinder the ability of the Department to conduct its business. If the functionality cannot be enabled and the risk of inappropriate access is sufficiently high, such systems will be scheduled for removal from use and replaced by systems with appropriate auditing functionality;
3. Access to files containing personal data will be monitored by supervisors on an ongoing basis. Staff will be made aware that this is being done. IT systems may need to be put in place to support this

31.10. BREACH MANAGEMENT

A data security breach can happen for a number of reasons, including:

- Loss or theft of data or equipment on which data is stored (including break-in to an organisation’s premises);
- Inappropriate access controls allowing unauthorised use;

- Equipment failure;
- Human error;
- Unforeseen circumstances such as a flood or fire;
- A hacking attack;
- Access where information is obtained by deceiving the organisation that holds it.

It is important that FAROF put into place a breach management plan to follow when such an incident occur. There are five elements to any breach management plan:

1. Identification and Classification
2. Containment and Recovery
3. Risk Assessment
4. Notification of Breach
5. Evaluation and Response

1. Identification and Classification

FAROF must put in place procedures that will allow any staff member to report an information security incident. It is important that all staff are aware to whom they will report such an incident. Having such a procedure in place will allow for early recognition of the incident so that it can be dealt with in the most appropriate manner.

Details of the incident will be recorded accurately, including the date and time the incident occurred, the date and time it was detected, who/what reported the incident, description of the incident, details of any ICT systems involved, corroborating material such as error messages, log files, etc. In this respect, staff need to be made fully aware as to what constitutes a breach.

2. Containment and Recovery

Containment involves limiting the scope and impact of the breach of data protection procedures.

If a breach occurs, FAROF will:

- decide on who would take the lead in investigating the breach and ensure that the appropriate resources are made available for the investigation;
- establish who in the organisation needs to be made aware of the breach and inform them of what they are expected to do to assist in the containment exercise. For example, this might entail isolating a compromised section of the network, finding a lost file or piece of equipment, or simply changing access codes to server rooms, etc.;

- establish whether there is anything that can be done to recover losses and limit the damage the breach can cause;

3. Risk Assessment

In assessing the risk arising from a data security breach, FAROF will consider what would be the potential adverse consequences for individuals, i.e. how likely it is that adverse consequences will materialise and, in the event of materialising, how serious or substantial are they likely to be. In assessing the risk, FAROF will consider the following points:

- what type of data is involved;
- how sensitive is it;
- are there any protections in place (e.g. encryption);
- what could the data tell a third party about the individual;
- how many individuals' personal data are affected by the breach;

4. Notification of Breaches

Although there is no current explicit legal obligation to notify individuals or other bodies under the Data Protection Acts of a breach, the Data Protection Commissioner's Office encourages voluntary notification and early engagement with the Office. Therefore, if inappropriate release/loss of personal data occurs it will be reported immediately, both internally and to the Data Protection Commissioner's Office and, if appropriate in the circumstances, to the persons whose data it is. In this regard, FAROF will be aware of the dangers of 'over notifying'.

When notifying individuals, FAROF will consider using the most appropriate medium to do so. They will also bear in mind the security of the medium used for notifying individuals of a breach of data protection procedures and the urgency of the situation. Specific and clear advice will be given to individuals on the steps they can take to protect themselves and what the Department is willing to do to assist them. FAROF will also provide a way in which individuals can make contact for further information, e.g. a helpline number, webpage, etc.

FAROF will consider notifying third parties such as the bank or credit card companies who can assist in reducing the risk of financial loss to individuals.

The Office of the Data Protection Commissioner will provide advice upon notification as to the requirement or otherwise, in particular circumstances, to notify individuals.

5. Evaluation and Response

Subsequent to any information security breach a thorough review of the incident will occur. The purpose of this review is to ensure that the steps taken during the incident were appropriate and to identify areas that may need to be improved.

Any recommended changes to policies and/or procedures will be documented and implemented as soon as possible thereafter.

Each Department will identify a group of people within the organisation who will be responsible for reacting to reported breaches of security.

32. COMPUTER POLICY FOR OFFICE DATA MANAGEMENT

32.1. Purpose

FAROF seeks to effectively manage the computer system for guiding the use, maintenance and security of the computer equipment. Employees are responsible for ensuring that the procedures and policies suggested here are followed.

32.2. Use

Using computer equipment requires particular care because of its fragility and high cost. Access to the equipment should thus be strictly reserved to FAROF employees only. Those employees who are unable to handle commonly-used software will be given an orientation by the senior staff on request. At least one FAROF employee will be trained in handling minor maintenance of computers and accessories at the office.

All staffs of FAROF will be placed with a laptop which is used for official purpose only and not otherwise, on termination, employees are to return laptop and any other computer accessories given in good working condition

32.3. Security

a. In order to safeguard the computers against viruses, the external drives (CDs/DVDs/floppies/pen drives) that are at FAROF office are only to be used. In the same way, no external drive from any source other than from sealed packets shall be used in the computers, unless it is first scanned with latest anti-virus software.

b. In order to safeguard computers from viruses, antivirus software has been installed in the computers. The virus list for this program should be updated on a regular basis. It is the duty of the employee who has been assigned a computer to update the virus list on her / his computer.

- c. There should be at least two backups of all important documents. One copy should be on the hard disk of the computer assigned to the concerned employee and a second copy on a CD/DVD kept in the office.
- d. The computers of FAROF should normally be used by its employees. Consultants and volunteers should seek prior permission of FAROF employee before using his/her computer in the office
- e. laptops should not be taken out of office or less when assigned for official purpose only

32.4. Saving documents in the computers

In order to streamline the procedure to save documents in the computers and to make it easier for people to find documents and make back-ups of important documents, each employee should have a c:/my documents directory in his/her computer. This directory should be broken down into sub-directories to facilitate retrieval of important documents. Each employee will include a copy of all their important documents to be backed up on a directory entitled backup.

32.5. Back-ups of Documents

In order to safeguard important documents and other work done by the staff, the back-up directory of the employee shall be backed up on External hard drive/CD/DVD once every week (every Friday) and the CD/DVD stored by the employee in a designated locker of FAROF, we also strongly engage in Cloud computing to store FAROF Data.

ATTACHMENT B: CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

1. Purpose/General Rule

The purpose of this policy is to provide guidance in identifying and handling potential and actual conflicts of interest involving the foundation. In most instances, conflicts of interest can be avoided simply by continuing to exercise good judgment. The foundation relies on the sound judgment of its employees to prevent many such conflict situations.

FAROF is committed to the highest levels of integrity. Employees of FAROF are expected to conduct their relationships with each other, the foundation, and outside organizations with objectivity and honesty. The general rule is that: FAROF employees are obligated to avoid and disclose ethical, legal, financial, or other conflicts of interest involving the foundation, and remove themselves from a position of decision-making authority with respect to any conflict situation involving FAROF.

2. Identification and Management of Conflict Situations

2.1. Basic Definitions

Generally, a conflict of interest may occur if an endeavor or activity influences or appears to influence the ability of an individual to exercise objectivity or impairs the individual's ability to perform his or her employment responsibilities in the best interests of FAROF.

An individual is considered to have a potential conflict of interest in FAROF when:

- He or she or any family member receives a financial or other significant benefit as a result of the individual's position at FAROF;
- The individual has the opportunity to influence FAROF's granting, business, administrative, or other material decisions in a manner that leads to personal gain or advantage; or
- The individual has an existing or potential financial or other significant interest which impairs or might appear to impair the individual's judgment in carrying out their responsibilities to FAROF.

2.2. Specific Relationships that May Create Conflicts of Interest

A variety of situations, affiliations and relationships may create potential conflicts of interest. An employee's former employment with a prospective or actual grantee, contractor, vendor or supplier, could raise an allegation of an apparent or actual conflict of interest. Therefore, if the former employment relationship is within the last six months, you must disclose the relationship and recuse yourself from managing the grant or contract. In addition, if the former employment relationship is more than six months ago, but is still recent (within the past 12 months), you should disclose the relationship and be sensitive to the appearance of a conflict of interest or other impropriety.

For purposes of the Conflict of Interest Policy, the term "family member" means any spouse, domestic partner, parents, siblings, children, any other relative who resides in the same household and any other familial relationship that could create the appearance of a conflict.

Financial or other relationships (i.e., significant investor, governing board member, trustee, advisor, officer, consultant, or other position of influence) of an employee or their family with a prospective or actual grantee, contractor, vendor or supplier could create the appearance of impropriety or interfere with an employee's ability to perform their responsibilities on behalf of and in the best interests of the foundation. Such relationships should be disclosed in the employee's Conflict of Interest certification.

When deciding which relationships should be disclosed, consider the situation from the perspective of an outsider and whether the relationship is of a nature that it could raise an allegation of an apparent or actual conflict of interest, and then err on the side of transparency. Full disclosure helps to alleviate or avoid future misunderstandings.

Additionally, certain types of relationships between co-workers may create impermissible conflicts of interest. For example, a romantic relationship in the workplace may raise perceptions of bias and favoritism. For these reasons, personal/romantic or financial/business relationships between co-workers that could create the appearance of impropriety or interfere with an employee's ability to perform their responsibilities on behalf of and in the best interests of the foundation should be promptly disclosed to the Human Resources.

2.3. Disclosure and Management of Conflicts of Interest

All positions of influence, financial benefits, financial interests, and other potential conflicts of interest must be disclosed in the foundation's Conflict of Interest certification. If an appearance of impropriety or actual conflict of interest exist, appropriate actions must be taken, which will vary depending upon the particular facts. The employee involved in the conflict situation must work cooperatively with their manager to achieve a resolution of the conflict issues in the best interests of the foundation. Depending upon the nature of the conflict, this may include the employee being removed from a position of decision-making authority with respect to the conflict situation or other more serious actions.

3. Gifts and Entertainment

FAROF employees may not receive or offer gifts, entertainment or anything else of significant value (e.g. financial payments, awards, loans, services, fees, etc.) for the purpose of influencing the action of FAROF or of the recipient. Gifts and entertainment received from vendors, suppliers, consultants, and grantees as part of normal business practice, must be declined, given to the foundation or shared with the foundation generally, and if acknowledgement is appropriate, acknowledged on behalf of the foundation. This guideline is not intended to prohibit normal business practices, such as meetings over meals, corporate items given to participants in meetings and conferences, or token hosting gifts, as long as they are of nominal and reasonable value and promote the foundation's legitimate business interests. If an employee believes there is an appropriate reason to make an exception to this policy for an individual situation, he or she should contact Legal prior to giving or accepting the gift.

²While it may sometimes be difficult to judge the value of gifts offered to foundation employees, it is important to also consider the appearance of impropriety. FAROF staff should refrain from accepting gifts when the gifts give the appearance of impropriety. Please contact Legal if you are unsure about the appropriateness of accepting gifts or social invitations.

4. Director's Fees, Honorariums, Expense Reimbursements, and other Similar Payments

Staff members are encouraged to undertake speaking engagements, write articles, and engage in similar endeavors, provided the time spent does not interfere with the employee's foundation responsibilities.

When participating in such activities as a foundation representative or as a part of foundation-sponsored board service, director's fees, author's royalties, honorariums, and payments for published articles or speaking engagements may not be accepted and travel costs and expenses should be paid by the foundation.

When participating in such activities as a member of a governing board or advisory board and as part of professional development, any director's fees may not be accepted and travel costs and expenses should be paid by the foundation.

When participating in such activities on a personal basis, director's fees, author's royalties, honorariums, and payments for published articles or speaking engagements should only be accepted if:

1. the materials and all activities undertaken in connection with these endeavors are prepared or conducted on personal time;
2. the issues addressed are not related to the foundation's work or mission;

3. foundation resources are not utilized and;
4. the organization making the payment is not a foundation grantee.

Travel costs and expenses incurred in connection with any activities that are not foundation related must be borne by the individual or the organization inviting them to participate, and must not be paid or reimbursed by the foundation. If an employee believes circumstances merit an exception to this policy, the employee should consult Legal for advice.

5. Accepting Compensated Work Outside the Foundation

In an effort to prevent potential conflicts, understanding the scope and nature of outside business commitments of foundation management is necessary to ensure they do not infringe on work responsibilities required on behalf of the foundation. Therefore, foundation employees who hold the position of Program Officer or higher, or are otherwise at the level of manager, may not conduct outside business or other activities for which they receive remuneration if it is related to their expertise as a foundation employee or the business of the foundation, without prior approval from the Director of their group, or, in the case of a Director, from the chair of the Trustee. The Director and/or Chair must consult with Legal before granting permission. In requesting permission, the employee should disclose the organization for which the work will be done, the nature of the work, the expected time commitment and remuneration to be received, as well as an evaluation of any potential conflicts of interest that could arise with the foundation as a result of the employee's engagement in such activity. All other foundation employees may accept compensated work outside the foundation provided that such work is performed solely on personal time, without the use of foundation resources, and provided that the time commitment required for such outside work does not impact the employee's ability to perform his or her work for the foundation.

6. Foundation Matching Gift Program

A foundation employee may request that the foundation make a grant in connection with the foundation's Employee Matching Gift Program to a charitable organization in which the employee or the employee's family is involved in management and/or decision-making activities, provided that the grant funds are not earmarked to pay the salary of the foundation employee or their family member.

7. Political Activities

The foundation is strictly prohibited from engaging in electoral politics or lobbying activities. Foundation employees are free to engage in these types of political activities on a personal basis provided the activities do not conflict with their ability to carry out their foundation responsibilities or create confusion between positions or actions that are taken by them personally, versus as a foundation representative. Before a foundation employee becomes actively involved in a political campaign or activity, the employee should discuss appropriate actions with Legal to avoid or minimize the risk of the employee's personal actions being attributed to the foundation, and also review any other unintended potential impacts such activity could have on the foundation. Individual political activities should only occur during off-duty hours, at the employee's own expense, and without use of the foundation's name, resources, facilities, or equipment. If an employee is asked to sign political advertisements or endorsements that include employment, a generic description should be used such as “foundation program officer” or “grant maker in education” rather than including the name of the foundation. Only the Co-Chairs of the foundation can authorize the taking of any position by the foundation on legislation, referenda, or the like.

8. Competing for Foundation Individual Scholarships, Fellowships, or Awards

Employees of the foundation and their family members may not compete for foundation supported scholarships, fellowships, or awards.

9. Conflict of Interest Certification

Upon commencement of employment and annually thereafter, all employees must complete a Conflict-of-Interest certification. Employees are also required to update their certification whenever there has been a change in the employee’s affiliations. Employees will be prompted to disclose all of their affiliations, even if there is no current conflict of interest.

10. Interpretation

This policy cannot describe all conflicts of interest situations that may arise involving the foundation. Therefore, foundation employees must use good judgment to avoid any appearance of impropriety. Appropriate circumstances may also justify exceptions to the application of the policy. If you have any questions about this policy or its application, please err on the side of caution and transparency and seek advice from Legal prior to entering into such transaction.

In these circumstances, information may be divulged to external agencies e.g. police or social services on a need to know basis,

Where a worker feels confidentiality should be breached the following steps will be taken:

ATTACHMENT- D: VEHICLE POLICY

The Purpose of this Policy is to ensure the safety of those individuals who drive Organization vehicles. Vehicle accidents are costly to our Organization, but more importantly, they may result in injury to you or others. It is the driver's responsibility to operate all vehicles in a safe manner and to drive defensively to prevent injuries and property damage. As such the Organization endorses all applicable State motor vehicle regulations relating to driver responsibility. The Organization expects each driver to drive in a safe and courteous manner pursuant to the following safety rules. The attitude you take when behind the wheel is the single most important factor in driving safely.

Our organization vehicle policy describes our guidelines for using organization cars. An “organization car” is any type of vehicle our organization assigns to employees to support their transportation needs for their jobs. Organization cars belong to our organization and we want to make sure our employees use them properly.

4. Employees with disabilities

Employees with disabilities may also be eligible for organization cars and parking spaces. We're also willing to make reasonable accommodations to facilitate their organization vehicle use. Driving and Traffic Violation Policy

We deeply value the safety and well-being of all employees. Due to the risk of motor vehicle accidents resulting from traffic congestion, unsafe driving habits, road conditions and distraction, Freehearts Africa Reach out Foundation (FAROF) is instituting a safety driving policy and rules. This safety policy applies to all employees who operate a motor vehicle on Foundation's time, whether operating the Foundation's vehicle or personal vehicle.

Safety Rules

1. Inspect vehicles prior to use to ensure that they are in safe operating condition.
 - a. If a vehicle does not pass inspection, Decline from using it.
 - b. Vehicles are not to be operated unless in a safe operating condition.
2. Drivers must be physically and mentally able to drive safely. Fatigue, medications and physical injuries can affect an employee's ability to safely operate a vehicle.
3. Drivers must conform to all traffic laws and make allowances for adverse weather and traffic conditions. Speeding and aggressive behavior will not be tolerated.
4. Seat belts must be worn whenever a vehicle is in motion.
5. Cell phone usage, including texting, is prohibited while driving for company purposes.
6. Hitchhikers and passengers other than Foundation employees are not permitted.
7. Cargo should be secured and all doors should be locked, both when the vehicle is en route and when it is parked.
8. Respect the rights of other drivers and pedestrians.
9. Drivers should not be under the influence of drugs or alcohol while operating a vehicle for the Foundation purposes.
10. All traffic violations, whether on organization or personal time, must be reported to the manager within 24 hours or by the next business day.
11. FAROF will review motor vehicle reports annually.
12. If an employee has a change in license status, including a renewal, he or she must give a copy of his or her new license to the supervisor for the employee's file.
13. Employees are responsible for maintaining a valid driver's license.

Safety Rules Enforcement

Employees will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination for violating any of the above rules.

Accidents

Any employee who is involved in an accident while driving for the Foundation purposes will be required to complete an accident report using the Foundation's auto accident investigation kit while at the scene of the accident. He or she must return the report to his or her supervisor on the same day to review the information to make sure it is complete. The employee must go for his or her post-accident drug and alcohol analysis at one of our designated facilities. The employee may also be required to discuss the accident with Human Resources or the safety manager.

Management will review all accidents and determine whether they were preventable or non-preventable. A preventable accident is defined as an accident in which the driver failed to do everything reasonably possible to prevent it from occurring.

Motor Vehicle Report (MVR) Standards

MVRs will be checked annually for all employees who may be required to drive for the Foundation purposes. The MVR will be reviewed to ascertain whether the employee holds a valid license and whether his or her driving record is within the parameters set by the Foundation.

DRIVER POLICY Disclaimer FORM

Employees assigned to driving duties ("drivers") must at all times meet the following criteria:

- Drivers must have a current, valid driver's license for the state in which the employee performs his or her driving duties; and
- Drivers must maintain a clean driving record, i.e., must remain insurable under our Organization's liability insurance policy.
- Drivers speed limit is not to exceed 60 km within town and 110km outside town (travels)

Any employee driving the organization's vehicle or driving on organization business must observe all safety, traffic, and criminal laws of this state. No driver may consume alcohol or illegal drugs while driving the organization's vehicle, while on Organization business or prior to the employee's shift, if such consumption would result in a detectable amount of alcohol or illegal drugs being present in the employee's system while on duty. In addition, no driver may consume or use any substance, regardless of legality or prescription status, if by so doing, the driver's ability to safely operate a motor vehicle and carry out other work-related duties would be impaired or diminished.

No driver may stop or pick up or transport non-employees while in an Organization vehicle or on Organization business, unless there is a work-related need to do so. Any illegal, dangerous, or other conduct while driving that would tend to place the lives or property of others at risk is prohibited.

Anything a driver does in connection with the operation of motor vehicles can affect that driver's fitness for duty or insurability as a driver. Regardless of fault, circumstance, on- or off-duty status, time, or place, any driver who receives a traffic citation from or is arrested by a law enforcement officer, or who is involved in any kind of accident while driving, must inform an appropriate supervisor about the incident immediately or as soon as possible. Thereafter, any penalty, fine, imprisonment, fee, or other adverse action imposed by a court in connection with such an incident must be reported immediately to an appropriate supervisor. In both of the above situations, the matter will be reported to the Organization's insurance carrier so that a prompt decision on continued coverage of the employee can be made. The driver involved in an accident or cited by a law enforcement official for violating a motor vehicle law must turn over any documentation relating to such incident as soon as possible to the employer, and must cooperate fully with the employer in verifying the information with other parties involved and with law enforcement authorities.

While parking tickets will not affect a driver's insurability, any parking ticket issued on a vehicle that is being used for Organization business should be reported to an appropriate supervisor at the earliest possible opportunity.

Any employee who violates any part of this policy, or who becomes uninsurable as a driver, will be subject to reassignment and/or disciplinary action, up to and possibly including termination from employment. All employees with driving duties must sign the following agreement:

I have read, understand and agree to the terms set forth in this Driving and Traffic Violation Policy.

I have read and understand the Organization's Driver Policy, and I agree, in the event that I am ever found to be uninsurable, or that I breach FAROF Policies, or that I lack a clean driving record or a valid and current driver's license, that if necessary, I will accept whatever alternative assignment the Organization may give me and that I understand that a reduction in pay, change in hours, change in duties, and/or change in work location may result from the reassignment. I further understand that the Organization does not and cannot guarantee that any particular reassignment will be available in the event of a problem with my driver's license, driving record, or insurability as a Driver, and that if no reassignment is possible, termination of my employment may occur.

B5 Discuss and agree the appraisee's career direction options and wishes, and readiness for promotion, and compare with and discuss the self-appraisal entry in A5. (Some people do not wish for promotion, but everyone is capable of, and generally benefits from, personal development - development and growth should be available to all, not just people seeking promotion). Note the agreed development aim(s):

B8 Discuss and agree (as far as is possible, given budgetary, availability and authorisation considerations) the training and development support to be given to help the appraisee meet the agreed objectives above.

Grade/recommendation/summary as applicable:

Refer to the guidance notes. Personal development and support must be offered to all employees, irrespective of age, gender, race, disability, etc., and not just to those seeking promotion. Development is not restricted to job skills - it includes 'whole person'. Use your imagination. Job skills training isn't restricted to courses. Think about coaching, mentoring (by and of the appraisee), secondment to another role, holiday job cover, shadowing, distance-learning, e-learning, books, videos, attending meetings and workshops, workbooks, manuals and guides, researching, giving presentations; anything relevant, helpful and agreed to help the person develop. Avoid committing to training expenditure before suitable approval or availability has been confirmed. Understand development options and procedures before conducting the appraisal.
